OHIO RIVER FLOOD RECEDES

WATER BEGINS TO DROP SLOWLY NEARLY TO CAIRO

Evacuation Of Louisville Is Being Speeded

Two Hundred Thousand Persons Being Taken From Flood Zone

REALIZE WORST SITUATION TO COME

Troops And 500 Police Officers From Other Cities Now Handle Safety

By CHARLES E. BLAKE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 28.—This flood-ridden city today faced the tremendous task of evacuating more than 200,000 men, women, and children.

The gigantic task of removing the major part of the city's population was being carried out in systematic manner.

First step in the evacuation process was the rescue of the flood-stricken persons marooned in the inundated areas. Most of them were removed to sections of downtown Louisville unaffected at the time by the worst flood in the city's history.

To Remove Refugees

The second step is the present task of removing the refugees from downtown theatres, apartment houses, clubs, churches, dance halls and other havens, to the dry ground of the highlands.

As fast as possible the refugees will be shipped out of the city, to be cared for until the flood waters recede and they can reclaim what possession the greedy Ohio left them.

To spend evacuation, every available vehicle has been confiscated.

Ambulances, trucks, coaches and passenger cars turn the downtown streets of Louisville into a bedlam with screaming sirens and clanging bells as they weave through the streets, rushing ill and injured to hospitals and answering emergency calls.

During the day the downtown section of the city has every appearance of being under martial law. Local police are so fatigued and worn out from incessant duty since last Thursday that they were given a 24-hour furlough and replaced by members of the U. S. army.

Streets Are Patrolled

In full military equipment soldiers patrolled the streets, directed traffic and assumed all the duties of the police.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

With streams continuing to drop, fields in the vicinity of Mount Jackson, which have been completely inundated by water, are commencing to look more like fields than miniature lakes.

Receding waters in this district have resulted in all highways in the county once more being open to traffic. The last highway to be opened was the road near the Harbor, leading from the Pulaski road. It was covered for several days while the Shenango river was at a high state.

Merciful Sleep Shuts Out Flood's Agony

Ten thousand words couldn't teli the story this picture dose. Young and old, the weak and strong—all alike wearied beyond human endurance. Side by side, these Shawneetown, Ill., refugees sleep away the horrors behind them. Note particularly the crippled woman at the left—literally asleep on her feet.

Shenango River Falls Rapidly

Freezing Water Dries Up Stream Causing Stage To Drop Six Feet From High

RELEASE WATER FROM PYMATUNING

Since the Shenango River started falling, late Tuesday, it has gone down rapidly, observations this morning reveal, the stream falling four and a half feet since 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. It went down slowly for the first twelve hours after reaching its crest, but all day yesterday, it kept receding very fast. The stage this morning was 10.2 feet, the crest having been reached at 16 feet.

Further decline of the stream may be slower for a time, however, as the gates of the Pymatuning were opened wide yesterday when it was shown that the stream was receding

Missing Man Is Victim Of Flood

McKees Rocks Man Found In Chartiers Creek—Pittsburgh Flood Is Over.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—The rivers here chalked up another victim today before they began a final recession which was expected to preclude further danger of a flood in this area.

Dan Cassidy, 55, an enamel worker, of suburban McKees Rocks, missing from his home for two days, was found in Chartiers Creek.

Meanwhile, the river stage this morning was reported as 23.1 feet and falling at the rate of .15 feet an hour, with expectation that it would reach 20 feet tonight, five under flood stage. Weather bureau officials said there need be no fear of a similar inundation in the near future.

Plan Reopening Of Glass Plant

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 28—Furnaces were lighted and other steps taken today to restore normal operations in the four plants of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co., following settlement of the strike which closed the plants for six weeks and let 7,100 employes idle.

The agreement provides blanket wage increase of 8 cents an hour, which Goodwillie said brings the average wage to 89.8 cents an hour and adds $980,000 to the company's annual payroll.

HEROES OF MARCH FLOOD ARE CITED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28—Two heroes of last March's disastrous St. Patrick's day flood were rewarded for their valor today by the Carnegie hero fund commission. One other Pennsylvanian was included in the list of nine heroes cited.

John G. Ruzbacki and Alexander S. Buyny, both of East Vandergrift, were awarded the bronze medal symbolic of some outstanding act of bravery.

Relief Fund Grows Slowly

Original Quota Is Reached Today With Five Times This Amount Needed

MUST SPEED UP TO REACH GOAL

Unless an increase in contributions is noted within the next few days, Lawrence county will not attain its goal of $9,000 established by the American National Red Cross for the relief of sufferers in the flood district, Disaster Relief Chairman Paul F. Butz stated today. The fund has been rolling in at a rate of $600 per day, which would take more than two weeks to attain, Mr. Butz stated. This morning, the fund stood at $1,844.

National Chairman Cary T. Grayson, in a telegram to the chapter Wednesday afternoon, said: "The only limit of Red Cross Assistance must be the maximum generosity of the American people. Every possible member of the National Red Cross staff is now in the field for relief duty. I call on all chapters to assume full initiative in their respective jurisdictions and mobilize every community resource of personnel and organization to Flood Control Groups Called To Columbus, O.

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 28.—Warning that certain Ohio valley lands will become uninhabitable unless adequate flood control measures are taken, the Ohio Chamber of Commerce today called upon similar groups in four other states to meet here on February 3 to consider flood control.

Alexander Thomson, president of the Ohio Chamber, said Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania and New York state Chambers of Commerce were invited to send representatives, as well as those of a number of cities vitally affected by the flood.

Ohio Governor Tours State's Flood Regions; To Demand Control

By RICHARD A. BLACKBURN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PORTSMOUTH, O., Jan. 28. Awed by distressing scenes witnessed during a personal tour of the flood zone, Gov. Martin L. Davey declared emphatically today Ohio will demand such a gigantic flood control program a recurrence of the devastation will be impossible.

Scenes he witnessed in Ironton, which is nine-tenths under water, "can never be forgotten," the governor said,

With his military aide and three newsmen, Governor Davey was to conclude his inspection trip with a tour of this flood-stricken city in a power launch.

Perkins' Demand For Haste Meets Little Response

Congressional Leaders Are Surprised By Demand Of Secretary Perkins

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The demand of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins for "utmost haste" legislation to deal with the automotive strike faced rough going on Capitol Hill today.

Surprised by the suddenness of the request congressional leaders declined to give her assurance of the speed she asked, but promised to "consider" the proposal.

Miss Perkins asked for action "with the utmost haste compatible with sound procedure." Her request went forward in identical letters to Speaker Bankhead of the house and Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas, senate democratic leader.

Speaker Bankhead had this to say today:

"I have answered Miss Perkins' letter. I assured her the suggestion will be given the consideration that a communication of this sort deserves.

"I could not give Miss Perkins assurance of action, as there has not been time to consider it. I informed her that I would advise her as soon as I could get an intelligent reaction here."

Bankhead added that he "supposed" the Perkins proposal, if drafted into a bill, would have to go through the usual committee channels. That, under ordinary circumstances, would consume several days at the very earliest.

Red Cross Fund Nears $3,000,000

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28—More than $1,500,000 in public contributions poured into the Red Cross in the 24 hours ending at noon today for flood relief.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Red Cross chairman, reported that public contributions totalled $2,831,361 toward its $10,000,000 goal as compared to $1,222,182 at the same hour yesterday.

Most Of Huge Loss In Flood Area Total

By GEORGE ADAMS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The negligible sum of less than one per cent of the property damaged in the Ohio river flood area is covered by insurance.

Virtually none is covered by flood insurance, heads of American insurance firms revealed here today. American firms do not write flood insurance, they said, and only those covered by fire insurance, automobile and inland marine policies may recover their losses.

The sum to which the total property damage will mount surpasses even the imagination of the insurance men, accustomed as they are to large figures. Some idea may be gleaned, they said, by glancing at the assessed realty valuation of the areas under water.

Estimate $1,383,204,870 Loss.

The staggering sum of $1,383,204,870 is reached by adding only that of Cincinnati, Louisville, Evansville, Wheeling and Portsmouth. That is double the valuation of San Francisco.

Mississippi Valley Concentration Camps For 500,000 Are Planned

By L. W. MEREDITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28—Concentration camps to house 500,000 persons have been selected in the highlands off the Mississippi River Valley in anticipation of a raging flood by Sunday. Surveys of towns and communities have been completed for emergency housing for 500,000 more if the wholesale evacuation of the Great Valley is found necessary.

These steps were revealed today at Red Cross headquarters as fleets of trucks and watercraft were being assembled at strategic points, accessible to the 1,000,000 persons living in the Mississippi lowlands stretch from Cairo, Ill., to New Orleans.

Select Camp Site

Red Cross and war department workers have cooperated in selecting sites for more than 150 refugee camps, in addition to 137 CCC camps. In the 1927 flood on the Mississippi the Red Cross provided for 637,476 persons. Of these 325,554 were placed in concentration camps, and the rest in homes, schools, churches and in other emergency shelters.

All of these camp sites have been re-surveyed, and all but a few are available for use if the on-rushing Ohio flood continues its devastation when it strikes the broad Mississippi.

More than a score of additional camps have been surveyed for emergency use if necessary all along the valley from Cairo to New Orleans.

In addition, the CCC is prepared to evacuate its 67 well-stocked camps and rehabilitate 70 temporarily closed or abandoned camps, if the occasion warrants. A feet of 2,000 CCC trucks is being mobilized along the Mississippi ahead of the flood.

DeWitt Smith, executive assistant to rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Red Cross chairman, said today:

The concentration camp sites are ready. We know where they are, how many persons can be accommodated in each, what is needed to evacuate the people from the lowlands, and how long it will take to get them out of danger. We are ready."

Coal Truck Drops Into Old Well At Yard On Richelieu

A truck delivering coal yesterday to the home of Mrs. M. E. Neely at 115 Richelieu, almost dropped from sight when it struck what is believed to have been an old well in the rear of the Neely property.

The loaded truck sank nearly five feet.

Neighbors, excited over the plunge of the truck, found trouble in touching the bottom of the hole with a measuring rod after the truck had been removed.

"No one ever knew the hole was there" said one neighbor. "It was a surprise to us. The heavy truck was probably too much for the ground covering and it sank down. Naturally it thrilled the driver."

To Graduate 215 In Commencement Ceremony Friday

Westminster President To Address Senior High Class At Cathedral

EXERCISES OPENING PROMPTLY AT 7:30

Award Presentations Will Be Evening Feature; Crowd Is Expected

Two hundred and fifteen seniors will receive diplomas at the 68th commencement exercises of the senior high school in the Cathedral auditorium on Friday evening, January 29, at 7:30 o'clock. The exercises will mark the school's 10th mid-year graduation ceremony.

President Robert F. Galbreath of Westminster college will deliver the evening's principal address while Superintendent of Schools C. C. Green will speak briefly at the close of the program.

Starting Exercises Earlier.

Principal Frank L. Orth today stressed the starting hour of 7:30—originally 8 o'clock had been announced. The time was advanced to 7:30 inasmuch as an early adjournment is desired because of the president's birthday ball which follows in the Cathedral ballroom.

Diplomas will be presented by Daniel B. Woolcock, president of the board of education.

George H. Bendel Found Dead In Bed

Local Artist, Who Lived Alone at 233 North Mill Street, Discovered Dead Today.

George H. Bendel, an artist, aged about 50, who lived alone at 233 North Mill street, was found dead in bed this morning by police, who were called to investigate when neighbors who had missed him for several days, became alarmed over his absence.

Coroner Orville Potter was notified and conducted an investigation, but was unable to determine the exact cause of his death. He had evidently been dead since Sunday, as Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday's newspapers were found at his door. It was this circumstance which led to the discovery of his body. James A. Long, a neighbor, noticed the papers and knowing that he lived alone, felt that something was wrong and asked police to investigate.

Coroner Potter found a letter from Canton, O., addressed to him as "uncle" by a girl signing herself as "your niece Ann" and has communicated with the people at the Canton address, requesting information about Mr. Bendel.

He had resided with Mr and Mrs. James Orsburn at the Mill St. address, and on the death of these people, was willed the property and furnishings at 233 North Mill St., it is stated.

First Optimism In Historic Flood Disaster Is Seen

No Let Up In Battle In Devastated Area, However, Despite Day's Turn

PREPARE FOR FLOOD ON MISSISSIPPI

Predicted Record Stage On Mississippi May Not Be Reached, It Is Believed

(International News Service)

"The crisis is past."

That was the word which ran like wildfire today down the 2,000 mile-long flood front in which $400,0000,000 damage and an estimated 400 deaths have been caused.

Thousands continued to toil unceasingly to strengthen the Mississippi's billion dollar levee system. Wholesale evacuations continued. The threat of disease still hung like a pall over the vast island basin.

Ohio Slowly Receding

But definite word that the flood-maddened Ohio river is slowly receding, and that the Mississippi will not reach the crests previously predicted, gave optimism to the historic disaster.

The Ohio river was receding all along the line from Pittsburgh nearly to its confluence with the Mississippi at Cairo, Ill. A few lower Ohio points reported slowly rising stages again today.

Col. Eugene Reybold, who had previously predicted a crest of 53 feet at Memphis, cut his figure to an expected crest of 47 feet.

Light rains fell today in Indiana, Tennessee and Kentucky, but no rain sufficient to complicate the flood situation seriously was reported.

Lessens Huge Evacuation Need

Today's turn for the better lessened the possibility that the United states war department would be forced to carry through its gigantic plan to evacuate upwards of 1,000,000 persons from the Mississippi valley.

Preparations still went forward for the mass evacuation, largest

JOHNSTOWN DAM FIRST?

Flood Prevention Steps Are Planned

Johnstown Area Dam May Get Precedence Over Tionesta Project

CONSTRUCTION WORK IS TO BE REQUESTED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—The first dam in the joint state and federal flood control program may be built in the Johnstown area, it was indicated today by the Tri-State Authority and Citizens' Flood Committee.

The Johnstown project, State Senator William B. Rodgers, president of the authority said, will be placed on the top of the construction schedule and "may even take precedence over Tionesta and Crooked Creek projects."

Two Projects Approved

The latter two projects, located along streams feeding the Allegheny river, already have been approved by U. S. Army engineers.

Plans for the Johnstown dam are still in the form of preliminary studies and estimates, it was said.

Funds for the actual construction work will be provided by the federal government but none of this is available yet nor is there any provision for the Johnstown dam in proposed state legislation.

SHENANGO RIVER FALLS RAPIDLY

so rapidly. This action was taken when the flow line stood at one-tenth of a foot below the emergency flow line, which was raised two feet last fall by the addition of flashboards at the mouth of the dam.

The normal flow line of the dam is 1008 feet above sea level. The gates were partially opened Tuesday night, when the height of the impounded water reached 1009.08 feet, needing less than a tenth of a foot to send the waters flowing over the top of the flash boards. Engineer Joseph Stastny stated today that the gates will be kept open until the water gets back to normal stage, unless it rains more in the meantime.

Many local business places were still pumping water out of their cellars today, there being a scarcity of small pumps with which to carry on this work, and those who were not fortunate enough to engage them early, had to wait their turn.

Beaver Attorney Dies After Fall

Allen Byron Stevenson Falls At Mercer Sanitorium; Dies In Pittsburgh.

Attorney Allen Byron Stevenson, 57, of Beaver, Pa., prominent member of the Beaver County Bar, known in New Castle, died Wednesday in the Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh, from injuries suffered in a fall yesterday at a Mercer sanitorium where he was recuperating from an illness.

Born in Braddock, Mr. Stevenson graduated from the Mercersburg Academy, Princeton and the law school of the University of Pittsburgh. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church, and a veteran of the World war. His mother died two months ago, and his bride of three months, Mrs. Barbara Smith Stevenson, is left.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the J. T. Anderson funeral home, Beaver.

McCULLOUGH LEAVES WITH TROOPS TO AID IN LOUISVILLE, KY.

Robert O. McCullough of 1302 Highland avenue was among the local men who left Wednesday for the flood-stricken area in Louisville, Ky., to give assistance, it was learned today. McCullough has been stationed at New Brighton as a state trooper.

He will join the troop assigned to flood duties in Kentucky.

raise promptly the largest possible amount. Goal not less than five times original one assigned you."

Yesterday's contributions included the largest amount given by any individual or corporation here so far, a check for $250 having been received from the Associated Box corporation, in addition to which, there were handsome donations from officers of the company here.

Other large gifts are expected from corporations and plant employes this week, as others will follow the example set by the box company.

In addition to the stations in the outlying district where contributions may be left, it was announced today by Disaster Relief Chairman Butz that residents of the Edenburg district may leave their contributions at Raub's store. Other places are the Borough building in Bessemer, Repman's store in Wampum, and the Depositor's National Bank in New Wilmington.

Deaths of the Day

Robert Jones.

Robert Jones, a retired mail carrier and resident of New Castle for three-quarters of a century, died at the age of 80 years at his home, 510 Pearson street, Wednesday at 11:30 p. m.

Mr. Jones was born in Pittsburgh on October 26, 1856, son of William and Elyzabeth Donaldson Jones. The family came to New Castle to live when he was a little boy. On January 21, 1878, he married Sarah Ellen Swartzwelder and was preceded in death by her on August 3, 1910.

For 32 years Mr. Jones was a city letter carrier, retiring from the work 13 years ago. He was a well known resident and had many friends. He was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the G. B. U., the Maccabees, the M. W. A. and N. A. L. C.

wouldn't hazard a guess as to the damage toll.

"It's altogether too early to even think about it," he said. "We're getting only the sketchiest reports. We may never find out the final total."

An official of the Home Insurance company recalled that the $500,000,000 damage wreaked by the flood of March, 1936, was much less than originally estimated.

"After the water receded," he said, "it was found that little damage was incurred by buildings. It was simply a question of sweeping out the muck. However, machinery was damaged in many instances, but the greatest damage was done to stocks of merchandise.

"Health authorities ordered all stocks touched by flood waters to be burned. This was to prevent disease for sewage had backed up and most flood waters were contaminated."

strong, who arrived here yesterday were assigned to traffic duty and patrol work in the highlands.

With the river holding its stage of 57 feet for 24 hours, Louisville started to smile and looked forward to the day, about February 15, when the river will recede to flood level.

An official bulletin, issued at the city hall early today concluded by saying:

"If heaven is the reward for a hero's deeds, there will be a heap of Louisville folks gallivantin' around with the angles in the sweet bye and bye."

And that is the spirit of Louisville today.

Torn with grief, suffering and illness, homeless, hungry, cold and wet, the city keeps its head up.

Not that the flood is a thing of the past, because the worst is yet to come and will be more realized by tired populace as the waters recede and bodies of flood victims are found.

The city hospital today has more than 800 cases . . . 800 cases in space built to accommodate but 400 patients.

Youth Confesses Series Of Fires

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—An overwhelming desire to fight fire mixed with a reprimand given him by a volunteer firemen led Clarence Pugh, 20, of Stowe township, to fire the township firehouse causing damage estimated at $2,000, police and county detectives charged today.

He was arrested after a series of false alarms had annoyed the township firemen. Under questioning, the youth admitted starting the fire on January 16.

Son of a veteran volunteer fireman, Pugh had requested his father to file an application with the department. While awaiting action, he was scolded by one of the other men. It was this act which led to the series of false alarms and finally the fire, police said.

OHIO GOVERNOR TOURS STATE'S FLOOD REGION

with which stoic Portsmouth carried on in the face of its stubborn, besieging disaster.

Davey himself, nearly became a flood victim yesterday when he missed his footing in entering a boat as his party prepared to leave Ironton. Slipping on concrete steps before the Ohio National guard headquarters there, the governor sat down abruptly, and nearly slid into two feet of water.

He ordered two coast guard launches sent down the Ohio river for food and water distribution, and to investigate conditions in hamlets adjacent to Ironton. Conditions there have been unknown for several days because there was no boat at Ironton strong enough to withstand the river's treacherous side currents.

"We are concerned now," said Davey, "with saving life, preventing disease and looting when the water goes down. Our next step is a long-range control plan."

Aids Rescue Work

In Ironton, the governor performed the role of a one-man relief agency. A distressed woman rushed to him, appealing for a boat to rescue an elderly man and four small children without food for four days.

Governor Davey instructed his military aide and other officers to look after their wants.

Lieut. W. D. Hines of the National guard, stationed at the Ironton school, told Davey "my eyes have had tears in them too often" because of the pitiable condition of children.

He was informed on his arrival in Portsmouth that the situation is well under control, although there still is the danger of fire from gasoline on the water in the downtown district.

Rescue work has been made hazardous by low-hanging telephone and high-tension wires. Governor Davey and his party encountered many on their five-mile trip through the backwaters while leaving Ironton.

Take 2100 From City

Trains hurriedly made up and rushed to this city in the past few days have taken approximately 2,100 refugees to Columbus, Chillicothe and Circleville. About 1,400 homeless are in Columbus, 400 in Chillicothe and 325 in Circleville. Another train load of refugees leaves here today for Columbus.

Governor Davey was greatly relieved by reports that there was so little loss of life in Ohio, and was aghast at the news of 200 reported dead at Louisville, Ky.

"My God, that's awful," he exclaimed.

The water has been stationary here for hours, we were told, and is expected to begin falling momentarily.

JOINS LOUISVILLE FORCES

A former New Castle man today had left Pittsburgh by plane to contribute medical aid to Louisville flood sufferers. He is Dr. G. E. Martin, superintendent of Pittsburgh's tuberculosis hospital and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Martin, Young street. He will remain in the Kentucky city until distress has been reduced.

Don't Sleep When Gas Presses Heart

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalies and "gas tablets." Most GAS is lodged in the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old poisonous matter in the constipated bowels that are loaded with ill-causing bacteria.

If your constipation is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset. GAS often presses heart and lungs, making life miserable. You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, grouchy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED.

Thousands of sufferers have found in Adlerika the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adlerika rids you of gas and cleans foul poisons out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika. Get rid of GAS. Adlerika does not gripe—is not habit forming. Eckerd's.

WIMODAUSIS SEWS AT JAMESON HOSPITAL

A most successful meeting was conducted in the solarium of Jameson Memorial hospital Wednesday morning from nine until 12 o'clock, when members of the Wimodausis club gathered to aid in sewing linens and garments for us in the hospital.

A good attendance was recorded, and much was accomplished by the Wimodausis members, who had charge of the weekly sessions during January.

Throughout February, beginning Wednesday, the 10th, associates of the National Council of Jewish Women will be in charge as the hostess group. They will observe the same hours, and an invitation is extended to other women in the city to join and assist with the work on this date.

Transportation will be provided those desiring same by getting in touch with Mrs. James D. Crawford chairman of the motorcade committee. A large attendance is anticipated.

CASTLE BRIDGE CLUB EVENING ASSEMBLY

Wednesday evening marked another pleasant meeting for Castle Bridge club associates, at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Chapman, Leasure avenue.

Two tables of cards whiled away the early hours, with awards gaing to Mrs. Harold Leach and Mrs. Geo. Stoddard The galloping trophy was captured by Mrs. Charles Wetmore. At conclusion of the contest, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, with Mrs. Clarence Jarrett assisting.

The next assembly to take place February 10 will be with Mrs. Merle Francis, Butler avenue.

COLONIAL DAUGHTERS WILL CONVENE HERE

Announcement was made today that the state convention of the Daughters of American Colonists will take place in this city on Tuesday, March 30, with sessions in The Castleton.

The Kuskuska and Connoquenessing chapters will be joint hostesses to the visitors on this occasion and are making preparations to entertain them in a manner befitting the occasion.

It was further stated that Mrs. Fred C. Eaton of Warren, Pa., state regent, is sailing January 30 on a cruise of the West Indies, but will return in ample time for the convention here.

SPANISH AMERICAN VETS PLAN BANQUET

The Spanish-American War Veterans of this city are arranging for their annual banquet which will take place at the Legion Home Saturday evening, February 13.

At a recent meeting, a committee composed of C. Ed Brown, chairman; M. J. Howard and Rex Patch, was appointed to arrange for the banquet and meeting which will be for the members of the organization and their families. It was decided by the committee that a turkey banquet will be served with all the trimmings.

The committee will arrange an interesting program of events for the evening, to provide the best amusement possible for the attending guests.

Group B Meeting

Group B of the Second U. P. church passed a pleasant afternoon on Wednesday at the English residence on Richelieu avenue. Ten members were present.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. McCormick, and valentine decorations, with a large heart as a centerpiece, were used in a nice fashion.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN SOCIAL LAST EVENING

One of the most lovely socials the First Presbyterian members have had was that of last evening. Favored by excellent weather the event was attended by a large crowd of people and was very enjoyable in every respect.

After a period of devotions conducted by the pastor, Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, an entertainment was presented in which selections were given by a male quintet (L. C. Mantz, William Drake, A. A. Webb, John McNeill, and James A. Hugh) and a play, "How the Story Grew," was given by a group of women, Mrs. A. B. Foster, Miss Ruth Sample, Mrs. Frank Woods, Mrs. James Mead, Mrs. Alice Killop, Miss Georgiana McNees, Mrs. G. W. Thomas and Mrs. Russell Magill.

Refreshments were served at the end of the evening, by Mrs. A. A. Webb, Mrs. Gilbert Long, Mrs. R. N. McBurney, Mrs. George Ramsey and Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine.

DINNER PARTY MARKS R. AND R. CLUB MEET

A special dinner party was enjoyed by the original R. and R. club members Wednesday evening at a prominent tavern on the Harlansburg road with Mrs. Clarence Gillespie presiding as hostess. The affair was in progress at 6:30 o'clock, a deliciously prepared chicken menu being served at a banquet table nicely appointed in seasonal tones.

Following, tables of 500 were featured, three tables of players competing for honors. Mrs. Clarence Bixler, Mrs. Allan McKissick and Mrs. Virgil Pitzer received the awards. The latter with Mrs. James Houston and Mrs. Helen Massie were special guests of the occasion.

The next regular assembly is scheduled for Wednesday evening, February 10, at the residence of Mrs. Clarence Bixler, Adams street.

BIRTHDAY SHOWER FOR JOLLY EIGHT MEMBER

At the assembly of the Jolly Eight club members held Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Glenn Montgomery, Grant street, the group honored one of their number, Mrs. William Stevenson, with a shower of linen towels and hankies. The event was a medium of celebrating her birthday anniversary, a custom of the club.

Cards added further to the entertainment, tables of 500 being in play until a late hour. Prizes fell to Mrs. Ed Timmer, Mrs. Willis Campbell and Mrs. Mary Bryson at conclusion of play. The serving of a dainty repast followed.

On February 3 the club will be guests of Mrs. William Stevenson, Knox avenue.

MRS. THOMAS VALLELY HOSTESS TO S. L. CLUB

On Wednesday evening members of the 1923 S. L. club gathered at the home of Mrs. Thomas Vallely, East Washington street, for their regular bi-weekly meeting.

The hours of the evening were whiled away at cards, with attractive awards going to Mrs. Frank Zimmerly and Mrs. Pete Capitola, at the end of play.

At a late hour the hostess served a delicious repast at small tables attractively decorated in seasonal tones. She was aided in serving by her daughter, Margaret.

Mrs. A. Brown, of Sheridan avenue, invited the group to her home for their next meeting, which will be held on Tuesday, February 9.

HOSPITAL EMERGENCY CLUB PARTY AT ELKS

A 6 o'clock dinner, featured the gathering of the New Castle Hospital Emergency club held Wednesday evening at the Elks' club rooms. The table was nicely appointed in seasonal tones, and a delicious chicken menu was served.

Following, the hours were spent in playing bingo, with several prizes being awarded to the winners.

The next regular meeting will take place at the hospital, Wednesday, February 10. Mrs. Richard Hannon and Mrs. Joseph Hannon are announced as co-hostesses in charge.

LUNCHEON MEETING FOR O. N. T. MEMBERS

Mrs. Henry Ehle of Mt. Jackson, entertained a one o'clock luncheon in her home Wednesday afternoon, with members of the O. N. T. club comprising the guest list.

The table was centered with a bouquet of red roses, carrying out the Valentine theme of red and white. After a sumptuous chicken menu was partaken of, the time was spent leisurely with needlework and conversation.

Mrs. Ehle was assisted throughout the afternoon by Miss Emma Gibson.

Dorcas Girls Gather

The Dorcas Girls of the Church of the Nazarene met at the home of Dorothy McCue Tuesday evening.

The meeting was opened by the reading of scripture by Mildred Connerly, and prayer by Betty Jacobs. The election of officers followed with these results:

President, Beatrice Thomas; secretary, Dorothy McCue; treasurer, Martha Black; and press reporter, Betty Jacobs.

The evening was partly devoted to the playing of games. Later delicious refreshments were served.

Dorcas Class Party

Mrs. A. J. Cowmeadow, of Beckford street, will have the Dorcas class of Central Christian church at her home Friday evening for a party in climax to a contest which has been waging between the "wet" and "dry" teams. The "wets" were the victors and will be the honored guests Friday night.

Swastika Club To Meet

Members of the Swastika club will meet Thursday evening, February 4, with Miss Mary Griffith, Electric street.

Ne-Ca-Hi Graduates Enjoy Dinner-Dance At Castleton

The Castleton Hotel ball room hummed with joyous sounds Wednesday evening, as 176 members of the graduating class of the senior high school, attended the semi-annual dinner-dance which is staged by the graduating class each semester.

According to the supervisors who attend many of these dances, the decorations, of blue and silver, far excelled any that have ever been used by the high school. All of the decorations were made under the direction of Miss Bess Gailey, art supervisor, and by the following members of her art staff: Lester Black, Marle Brightshue, Paul Jones, Francis Stevens, Clydina Coy, Wilma McCann, Eleanor Markley, Mike Horney, and Elizabeth Oprean.

The honored guest of the evening was Robert Mills, who has successfully guided the destiny of this class from the time they entered the school until the present time. Supervisor Mills was called upon by the president, Clyde Brest, acting toastmaster, who responded with a short talk. Mr. Mills expressed his appreciation to the class members for their cooperation throughout the three high school years.

Promptly at 6:30 a sumptuous dinner was served in the main dining room of the hotel. Toastmaster Brest introduced Dr. C. C. Green and Professor F. L. Orth, afterwards, and they delivered most interesting talks, of good advice to be used during the coming years.

Gertrude Hitchcock, chairman of the gift committee spoke in behalf of her fellow classmates, and presented gifts of appreciation to the following: Robert Mills, supervisor of the class; Clyde Brest, president; Principal Frank L. Orth, and Miss Marjorie Rhodes, assistant principal.

At 9 o'clock dancing was commenced and was the popular diversion until 12 o'clock, at which time the class members departed for their homes, bringing to a close a most enjoyable occasion.

Special guests present included: Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Green, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Wingerd, and Bill Chip, president of the June graduating group.

Credit for the success of the affair goes to the following committee: General chairman, Marjorie Blim; guest committee, Dorothy Mellinger, Sue Sadler, Betty Uber; orchestra committee, George Varga, Wilbert Grossman, Bill Jaxtheimer; gift committee, Gertrude Hitchcock, Tom Twaddle, and Margaret Bechtol.

FIRST M. E. SERIES LUNCHEON SUCCESS

Bright colors of Valentine suggestions in the form of hearts, cupids, arrows, and red candles, graced the luncheon tables at the First M. E. church when the Guild sponsored the second of a series of fellowship, luncheons at 1 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, which proved most successful in every way. Mrs. W. H. Martin and Mrs. Gertrude Mitchell, leaders of "Guard Four" were hostesses in charge.

Mrs. Martin and her capable kitchen committee with Mrs. Frank Marquis as leader, served a delicious menu.

Afterwards, the dramatic class of New Castle High school under the direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff, presented a clever skit. The plot centered about cupid, playing a role in hearts which involved a young man about to leave for college, and his "sometimes" best girl friend whom he was leaving behind. It provoked much merriment as he was desperately in love one minute and just the opposite the next. The roles were exceptionally well enacted by the cast.

Mrs. S. E. Crawford presided at the business meeting, with Mrs. Robert L. Merrmans in charge of the devotional period. Sewing and quilting were later pleasures with Mrs. J. D. McClelland and Mrs. Harry Burgess in charge.

The third luncheon of the series will be held Wednesday, February 24, with "Guard Two" as hostess group. Mrs. Arthur E. Lindsley and Mrs. C. C. Headland will preside.

PANDORAS MEETING IS MOST ENJOYABLE

The birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Josephine Fuleno, Mrs. Charlotte Shaughnessy and Mrs. Joseph DeLullo were celebrated by Pandoras club members on Wednesday night when they were charmingly entertained by Mrs. Josephine Fuleno.

Cards and social chat were the popular diversions of the evening, cards prizes going to Mrs. Millie Pratt, Mrs. Rose Sacco and Mrs. Josephine DeLullo. Mrs. Charlotte Shaughnessy won the club token. At the conclusion of the event, a tasty luncheon was served. Mrs. Dominick Diana and Miss Anna Maraio of New York were special guests. The affair proved most enjoyable.

On Thursday evening, February 11, Mrs. Louise Ciccerone, Hazen street, will receive the club.

Regular meeting for the S. A. S. club members was held Wednesday evening at the residence of Mrs. Francis Sheridan on Sankey street, with Mrs. Edith McLaughlin and Miss Josephine Kirk sharing as special guests.

In the 500 contest Mrs. Sue Flynn and Mrs. Agnes Mescall received the honor score trophies while the club prize went to Mrs. Anna Murray. The serving of lunch was the following feature, with appointments being suggestive of the season.

On February 10, Mrs. Kathryn Brogan of Lutton street will entertain.

D. M. I. Club Meets.

Members of the D. M. I. club met Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Marian D'Augostine, Division street.

During the business session it was decided to change the name of the club to the D. D. Q. Following, cards were enjoyed and later a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.

The next regular meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Dan DeFalco, South Jefferson street.

D. D. 500 Postponed

The meeting scheduled for memmembers of the D. D. 500 club at the home of Mrs. Milton Wood on East Washington street this week, has been postponed indefinitely due to illness.

N. K. CLUB OBSERVES FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Marking one year of successful gatherings, members of the N. K. club gathered in the home of Betty Miller, Harbor street, Wednesday to celebrate their first anniversary.

A delightful evening of entertainment was spent with various games. Prizes were awarded to Catherine Lewis for her skill in the games.

During a short business session, two more were admitted as new members, the Misses Evelyn Barbour and Virginia Trimble. An election of officers was also held with the following results: President, Elizabeth Lewis; vice president, Evelyn Barbour; secretary, Catherine Lewis and treasurer, Alice Slack.

Informal chat and a song period added further to the evening's entertainment. When the guests were invittd to the dining room, they found before them a beautifully laden table, containing many good things to eat. It was centered with a white anniversary cake, topped with a single candle. The hostess was assisted in serving by Miss Elizabeth Lewis.

Miss Catherine Lewis will entertain next when the club gathers at her home on Bell avenue, February 10.

1934 CLUB MEMBERS AT FRITZ RESIDENCE

Associates of the 1934 club enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fritz, Fairmont avenue, Wednesday evening, who entertained informally at cards. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ed. Pritchard Charles Andrews, Clyde Stevens and Harvey Cooper for winning honors.

An appetizing lunch was served by the hostess at a late hour, with several of the women in attendance assisting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Pritchard will receive the group at their home on Court street Wednesday, Feb. 10.

CHEERIO CLUB GROUP ENTERTAINS HUSBANDS

A special social function for the month of January for Cheerio club members, took place Wednesday evening at a downtown tea room, when they gathered for a dinner affair with husbands and escorts as special guests.

At 7 o'clock, a full course menu was served at a table appointed in crystal service, set off with glowing white waxen tapers. A theatre party at a local show house concluded the evening's festivities.

On Thursday, February 10, the club will meet with Mrs. William Burdette, Ray street.

Friendly Sisters Quilting.

Friendly Sisters Quilting club members met with Mrs. Alice Taylor, 110 West Madison avenue, Wednesday for an all day session. At noon the hostess and her daughter, Mrs. Gladys Taylor Hackett, served a full course dinner menu. The leisure time was spent in quilting.

A special feature was a humorous reading given by Mrs. Blanche Lewis. At 2:30 o'clock a short business period was conducted with the vice-president, Mrs. Lewis, in charge. Plans were formed for a Valentine party on February 17, at the home of Mrs. J. B. Daugherty, 203 North Walnut street. This will also take the form of an all day affair.

Special guests present included Mrs. M. Lada, Mrs. Gladys Taylor Hackett and Dorothy Hackett.

Chapter Of Youth.

Chapter of Youth lodge, Italian Order, Sons and Daughters of America, met last night in the Moose lodge rooms on South Mercer street.

At the business session it was decided to change the night of meeting, from Wednesday to the first Sunday evening of each month, the next meeting to take place on February 7. It will be in the form of a Valentine party.

Guests were present last night from Monaca and Beaver Falls. Plans were made for a mass initiation to be held in Pittsburgh on February 21.

PERMANENT FEDERAL RELIEF?

IN SUPPORT of his contention that the Nation needs a permanent "stabilized" system of Federal relief, instead of what he terms the present haphazard year-to-year appropriations by Congress, Mr. Hopkins, head of the WPA, points to the prosperous late nineteen twenties when, he estimates, there were between two and three million unemployed, "but the governments of the States and cities ignored the problem."

It is to be remembered that in those days countless private agencies of relief, liberally supported, bore the large share of the burden. During the depression the incomes of their supporters shrank rapidly, so that contributions steadily decreased. Emergency relief became an imperative function of the Federal Government. It could not have been handled in any other way.

Doubtless relief will remain a national problem for some time to come. But most of the charitable agencies have retained their organizations, though greatly reduced, and in no year have those in the principal cities failed to raise substantial funds for hospitals and other philanthropic institutions. Here is an indication that those societies devoted especially to caring for the poor may again receive in time their former measures of financial support, unless it is found that the habit of private generosity has been weakened by the Government's necessarily paternalistic activities.

Throughout the depression it has not been a matter of forgetting the poor but the financial inability of private beneficence that has thrust the main burden upon the Government at Washington. In the light of the business recovery which, despite temporary setbacks, has been running so strongly, Mr. Hopkins seems to be taking a rather too pessimistic view of the future unemployment situation. The highly encouraging figures of the improvement in factory employment were recently published.

The case for a continuance of year-to-year appropriations for relief is based on the inability to estimate with any degree of accuracy what conditions may be a long time ahead. The most important immediate consideration is to ascertain both the extent and the incidence of unemployment in this country today. Then Congress will be able to legislate intelligently. The question of a permanent system of Federal relief and its extent can not well be directed while the unemployment emergency still exists.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

EXTENDING FINGERPRINTING

Some day the merits of universal fingerprinting will be thoroughly understood and all children will submit to the process upon entering school exactly as they undergo immunization against disease.

The day is coming when we shall all be fingerprinted as a means of identification in case of accident, and as a deterrent to criminal impulses.

Public and parochial school children in Ventnor, N. J., were fingerprinted with the almost unanimous consent of their parents. Of 1,312 in the elementary grades, only eleven did not submit because their parents objected. Of course it does not follow that adults would submit in the same proportion, but thousands have already left their prints with officials. Whatsoever prejudice exists against the practice will fade as the years pass, for the merits of the system are obvious. Only the criminally inclined will refuse, and their refusal will make it harder for them to remain beyond the pale of the law.

CARBON MONOXIDE GAS

What may be called a program report on the experiments conducted at the Harvard Fatigue Laboratory on the effect of carbon monoxide gas on human beings is presented by Science. Six men have been subjected to controlled concentrations of the gas and their reactions have been recorded. The task is dangerous. Dr. W. H. Forbes of the laboratory fainted after completing tests calling for a high degree of skill. He was carried from the gas chamber and his blood was found to be "almost one-half saturated with carbon monoxide"; the average man can stand the gas only until his blood is one-third saturated.

One part of carbon monoxide gas to the thousand in the air breathed for half an hour can render a healthy man unconscious, if he is physically inactive—if, for example, he is driving a car. If he is exercising vigorously he may succumb sooner. The man breathing the gas has no warning. Besides being odorless, it produces no premonitory effects; he collapses without warning; "in all experiments the subjects showed no decrease in skill even when their blood was about one-third saturated and they were practically ready to collapse."

About 5 per cent of automobiles and closed trucks examined on the highways are said to have dangerous concentrations of carbon monoxide gas. The danger inherent in this has already been recognized. Occupants of motor cars have been urged to ventilate them, and to break their trips at frequent intervals, stop their engines, leave their cars and breathe uncontaminated air. Meanwhile, the automotive engineers are constantly improving ventilation in the cars themselves. No mechanism, however, can take the place of caution on the individual's part; drivers, garage workers and riders should remember that internal combustion engines give off carbon monoxide gas, and should be alert in governing themselves accordingly.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN

When I realize how many school systems, especially in the smaller districts, make no provision for their children who are in some way handicapped, I am unusually delighted when I am able to see exceptional children educated by the public schools in an intelligent fashion. It seems to me that the way it it done at the Ann Kellogg school, Battle Creek, Mich., approaches the ideal. I visited that school recently and asked the principal, Harley Z. Wooden, to tell me about their philosophy and administrative practice. In part, he replied:

"We feel in Battle Creek that every child should progress intellectually, socially and emotionally, as rapidly as his talents and abilities will permit. On the other hand, we feel that no child should be penalized or placed in an embarrassing position on account of any inadequacies which he may possess.

"A school, in order to accomplish these things, must be as democratic as possible, and its program must be flexible and capable of change to suit the needs of each particular child. For those children who possess handicaps—mental, physical, emotional or otherwise—there must be opportunity for them either to overcome their handicaps or else to compensate for them. In the cases of the blind, deaf and mentally retarded, especially, the problem is largely one of compensation. In the cases of the crippled, the non-readers, hard-of-hearing, the cardiacs and other lowered vitality children, it is a matter of overcoming as much as posible, and then compensating for the remaining handicap.

No Segregation.

"At the Ann J. Kellogg school, no child is segregated for his physical or emotional handicaps unless his presence would be an imposition upon the normal children. Such cases as might be repulsive or upsetting include epileptics subject to frequent seizures, crippled conditions hideous to look upon, or other similar cases. . . .

"The children spend only such time with the special instructor as may be deemed necesary to accomplish the desired purpose. . . .The hard-of-hearing, speech defectives and partially seeing children never spend more than a very small fraction of their time with a special instructor."

Mr. Wooden is editor of the Journal of Exceptional Children, the official organ of the International Council for Exceptional Children. I happen to be on its board. Our convention is to be in Cincinnati, O., Feb. 18 to 20. Anyone who really cares about the handicapped child or his parents is welcome to attend.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE

Do you complain because you have only one life to live?
Shame on you! One life ought to be enough for any man.

One life can be anything and everything.
It can be shabby, it can be rich.
It can be a shining jewel or a ball of mud.
Can be a stagnant pool or a clean, rippling stream.
Burnt-out ashes or a flaming torch.
A caress for a child or a bloody dagger.
A friendly light in a window or a cruel pitfall.
A blaze of glory or bitter failure.

One life is all you have, but one life is plenty.
It can be an example of courage, or an example of despair.
It can be bold, it can be craven.
It can be warm and fruitful, or cold and hard as selfishness.
It can be generous, it can be envious.
It can be beautiful, it can be ugly.
It can be patient and wise, reckless and idiotic.
It can be a field of usefulness, ro a waste of destruction.

One life, you say, is all you have . . . .but who would want more than this one chance to be alive?

You hold this one life in your hand. It is like a glorious pearl that glows if you wear it close to your heart, but sickens and pales if you shut it away from you.

Wear that one life proudly, gallantly, and it is a joy to all who behold it. Wear it timidly, in fear that at any moment it might be snatched from you, and you will soon have no life at all—and you shall be a pathetic shell walking in the shape of a man.

This is your life, and no other man may take it from you. Your life in laughing infancy, your life in wondering youth, your life in stalwart manhood, and your life still in contemplating age. . . .Be true to this one life. If you do, it will be more than enough.

At the bus station, a woman gave a little boy a tip for carrying her bag. The boy was silent. "Now," reminded the woman, "what should a polite little boy say to a lady who has given him a penny for carrying her grip?"

LADY CHIEFS, MAYBE?

They were discussing the North American Indian in a rural school, when the teacher asked if anyone knew what the leaders of the tribes were called.

"Correct. Now can anyone tell me what the women were called?"

There was silence for a while and then a small boy waved his hand.

"Well, Frankie, what is it?"

"Mischiefs," he announced proudly.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL—I have been told that a woman, speaking of her husband to her friends should not refer to him as "Mr Smith." Is this correct?

Mrs. SMITH.

Answer—When speaking of her husband to a stranger or some one to whom she has just been introduced a woman should refer to her husband as "my husband."

If the listener is a friend a wife should then refer to her husband by his Christian name.

This rule applies even when the listener has never met the husband in question.

Only to his office force, servants, tradesmen or hotel clerks and others not listed as social acquaintances should a woman speak of her husband as "Mr. Smith."

Dear Miss Markel—I recently met a boy at a friend's house. When he took me home he asked me if he might write to me, as he was leaving town the next day for an out-of-town school. Upon finding that we had no pencil nor paper on which to take down my address, he asked me to write to him first, that he might know where to send his letters. Would it be good taste for me to do this?

COLLEGE GIRL.

Answer—Ordinarily the boy should write and the girl wait until he has taken the initiative. But in your circumstances I think that you might waive this rule. Do not write a second time until he has answered your first letter.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A FINISHED MEMORIAL

Immediately after the tragic death of Will Rogers there was an intensive campaign begun to raise monies for some memorial or other to the memory of this wonderful man. I don't know how much money was raised in this campaign; it has never been made public, nor do I know who is the custodian of this fund or funds, for I imagine there are a good many custodians of it. There has no mention been made of the Fund for a long time in public print, much less has there been any memorial decided upon. It would be interesting to know what is being done in this particular.

While all of this has been going on, a great friend of Will Rogers, Mr. Spencer Penrose, of Colorado, has built on the crown of Cheyenne Mountain above Broadmoor and Colorado Springs, a feudal castle with a great tower, upon the highest point of which is placed a sodium light. This light will be turned on at the time of the tower's dedication—to burn forever. It will be easily visible 125 miles eastward into Kansas and toward the southeastern plains of Rogers' native Oklahoma. It stands as a beacon on the front range of the Rocky Mountains where the western plains roll abruptly into the backbone of the nation. It is 2,000 feet above Broadmoor at an elevation of about 10,000 feet and is at the end of the sky highway which zig-zags up the face of Cheyenne Mountain. More than 5,000 cubic yards of light pink granite was taken from a single boulder of Cheyenne Mountain as material for the 100-foot tower and the quarry is only a short distance from the memorial site—a place where Rogers had often enjoyed the vistas of the rolling plains, framed by the towering Rockies, for both Rogers and his friend Penrose made the end of the sky highway often their meeting place.

"What do you mean by following me?" she demanded.

But the man, without replying, slipped away.

Then when the stout lady resumed her walk, she spied the man following her again, and again she accosted him.

She almost fainted when she got this reply:

"For heaven's sake, lady, don't call a cop and chase me away. You are the only shady spot in the whole park."

SABBATH OBSERVANCE

Five-year-old William had been taught that Sunday is not a day of play, but one to be set aside for church and kindred matters. Naturally his mother was surprised and shocked one Sunday morning to find him sailing his toy boat in the bathtub.

"William! Don't you know it is wicked to sail boats on Sunday?" she demanded.

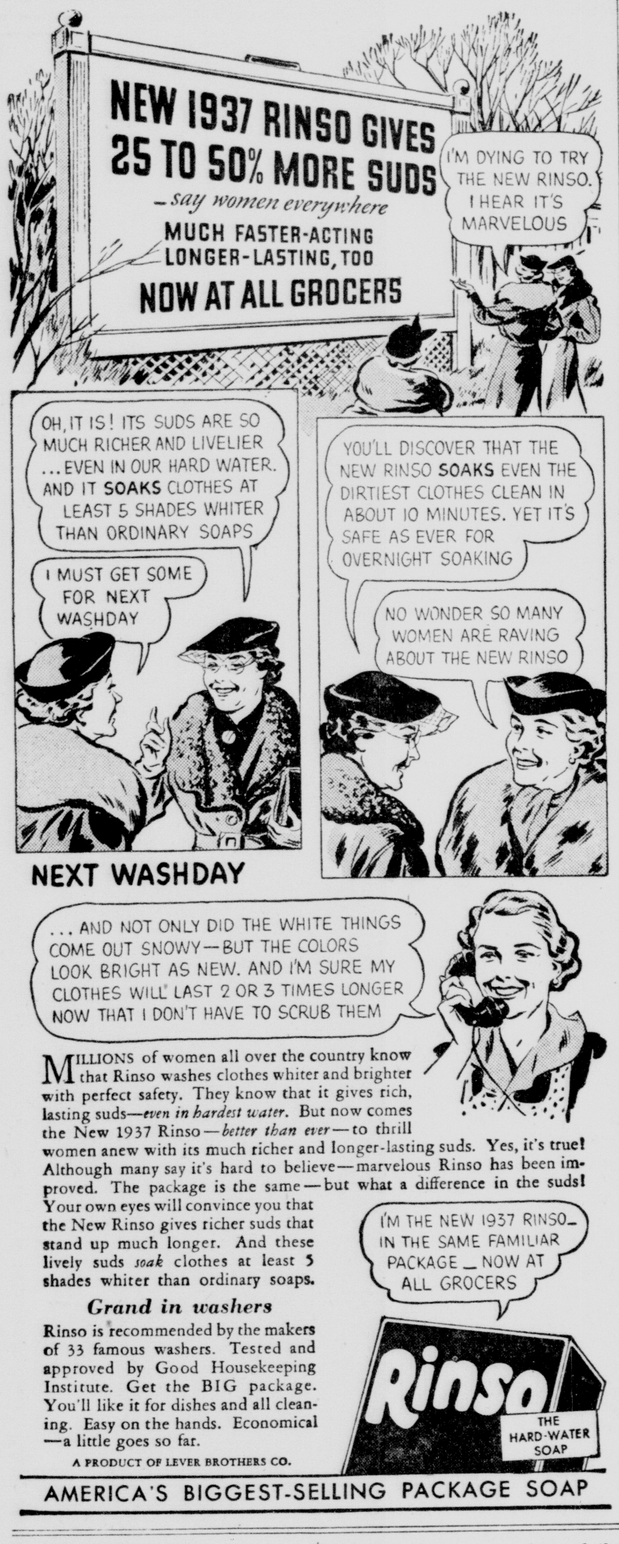

"Don't get excited, mother," replied William, calmly. "This isn't a pleasure trip. This is a missionary boat going to Africa."

N. Y. Woman One Of Two Licensed As Navigators

Adventurous New York Woman Captured By Lure Of The Ocean Waves

(International News Service)

ROME, N. Y.—The lure of the lakes and rivers is in the blood of Mrs. Daisy M. Goodfrey, Rome mother, who has the distinction of being one of the two women in the United States licensed as a master navigator.

She hails from a family of sailors. Her grandfather, Henry Knights, plied Lake Champlain with his masted schooners and her father, Daniel Knights, piloted his own canal boats on the same body of water. Mrs. Godfrey took to the water at the tender age of two.

Proudly framed on the wall of her home here is her Department of Commerce license. It states she has given satisfactory evidence that she can safely be entrusted with the duties and responsibilities of steam and motor vessels weighing up to 600 gross tons "on the waters of all rivers."

The license also qualifies Mrs. Godfrey as a first class pilot on any class of vessel of the same tonnage on the Hudson river from Troy to Cornwall, the State Barge Canal System, Buffalo Harbor, Black Rock Channel and the Niagara River between the U. S. Ship Lock and Tonawanda.

Mrs. Godfrey got her first pilot's license 15 years ago and now is studying Lake Champlain in preparation for an examination to add the lake to her list of water courses on which she may pilot.

The only other woman in the United States holding a master's license, so far as known, is Capt. Mary B. Greene, who owns and operates passenger and freight vessels plying the Mississippi River. The two have never met.

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Ja. 28.—Plas for a stratosphere flight with 2000 small balloons as lifting power were being worked out today by Prof. Jean Piccard.

The scientist said he hoped to reach a height of 20 miles—7 miles above the present record—by using the balloons heretofore employed for sending recording-instruments into the stratosphere. The balloons are four feet in diameter, and will extend to 15 feet before exploding. Piccard said that when the balloons began to burst, his gondola would descend slowly to earth.

Metropolitan Opera Star tells why he prefers a light smoke

When we go back to Europe we never forget to take along a good supply of Luckies."

Lauritz Melchior

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Melchior verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen, and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat!

Hold Choir Singer For Embezzlement

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 28.—Eli Hillis Wolf, 60, Monessen real estate broker and choir singer, was under indictment here today on four charges of embezzling $1,375 in mortgage cash.

The charges were brought by J. G. Good, examiner for the building and loan bureau of the state banking department, in behalf of three Monessen residents who had entrusted the money to Wolf as secretary of the Monessen Building & Loan Association.

The fourth charge was made by Jesse B. Hillman of Monessen, who accused Wolf of converting a $300 mortgage payment to Harry Pytnon of Belle Vernon.

MEETING OF A. Z. A. PLANNED FOR TONIGHT

The A. Z. A. (Junior B'Nai Brith) will have a meeting at 8:30 o'clock tonight in Tifereth Israel synagogue. Plans for going to a meeting of four chapters in Sharon on Sunday and for a council meeting in New Castle next month will be made.

Whisky Good For Snakebites Says Oldtimer

Old Bachelor In Indiana Keeps Snakes In Living Quarters As His Pets

(International News Service)

CLINTON, Ind.—The old-fashioned man who says that whiskey is good for snake bites has a supporter in Battista Constantino, 72, veteran Clinton snake raiser.

Constantino, a bachelor, has been bitten many times by his reptile pets, but says that because he drinks very little water and much whisky, he has had no ill effects.

After Battista catches a snake he does not place it in any basket, bag or other ordinary container. Instead he puts the snake inside his shirt, fastens the shirt and walks along home. Occasionally a snake becomes unruly and bites him, but he laughs at it.

At present, four blacksnakes and one water moccasin share Constantino.'s living quarters. They live in a long screened box placed beside their owner's bed. Once a week during warm weather they are fed parts of chickens, birds, frogs or sardines.

For exercise and entertainment of curious persons, who sometimes visit him, Constantino places the snakes on the ground, always following and watching them carefully, lest they find a hole.

In that case, it would be "adieu, snake" according to Constantino.

Thief Placed On Year's Parole By Pittsburgh Judge

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28— Emil Clark, 56 a modern "Jean Valjean" thief, was free today on a year's parole, after Judge Michael A. Musmanno granted him the mercy that was denied Victor Hugo's Jean Valjean. Clark allegedly stole $1.38 from Rev. Daniel C. Campbell after the latter had fed him.

BILINGUAL PARROT

(International News Service)

HOOPSTAD, Orange Free State – A parrot which has just died here aged 103 could talk in two languages—English and Afrikaans. Every phrase it uttered was spoken in both tongues, as though it were giving a translation of its remarks. Sometimes it spoke first in English, and sometimes in Afrikaans, but in any case it always "translated" its words into the other language.

New York Wants Song But Finds It Hard To Get

Two Thousand Song Manuscripts Fail To Reveal Suitable Song For New York

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—The "Wonder City" today was still without a municipal song, unable to gain from the thousands of music composers within its confines one good tune which it could claim as is own.

The musical plight of New York was made known when it was announced that of the 2,000 manuscripts submitted in Mayor La Guardia's $2,000 contest for the best tune typifying the city, not one came up to the standards set by the judges of the mayor's song committee.

The judges hastily added that many songs were good and several, in fact, were very good but none of them hit the nail on the head.

A common fault among the hopeful composers, according to Gene Buck, president of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, which is offering the $2,000 prize, was the "anthem mood" which was carried through most tunes.

"All we want," said Buck, "is a song."

The original contest closed last August first. Whether it will be continued or not depends on the judgment of the committee, which is expected to reach a favorable decision shortly.

Gives Back Teeth To Aid Suffering In Flood Areas

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—Six year-old Peter Minor today gave his eye-teeth to help Mississippi flood sufferers.

He sent a dollar to the Red Cross and wrote: "I want to help other little fellows like myself so I am sending you $1 I earned by having two of my back teeth pulled out last week."

The first "universal" language invented was "Volapuk," proposed in 1879 by Johann Schleyer, a German.

Girl Student Battles Death

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 28.—Helen Joan Duffill, South Hills high school girl of suburban Mt. Washington, today struggled for life in a hospital with a bullet wound above the heart, inflicted by herself after she quarreled with her boy friend following a drinking party in a neighborhood saloon, according to police.

A. D. Algeo, 43, owner of the saloon, was held in $1,000 bond, charged with selling liquor to a minor.

Arrest Man For Wounding Wife

Edward Klinefelter, 29, Held by Police, Fired Three Shots At His Wife.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—A Wilkinsburg man who said he came here from Clevland to kill his wife because "I loved her" was held by police today for trying.

Edward Klinefelter, 29, was arrested in the lobby of a downtown hotel through the vigilance of a patrolman who recognized him from a broadcast description.

"I may as well tell you; I know you fellows want me," he was quoted as saying when questioned.

He was held on a district attorney's detainer but a former charge, accusing him of firing three shots at his wife, Mrs. Margaret Klinefelter, 27, was expected to be filed today. Mrs. Klinefelter is recovering from a bullet wound in the right shoulder.

15¢-Price Now of Famous Cold Remedy

Genuine Bayer Aspirin the Thing To Take for Fast Relief

Instead of buying costly medicines for a cold, try the way nearly any doctor you ask will approve as the modern way — BAYER ASPIRIN. It is perhaps the most famous and most widely used of all cold remedies today—yet costs only 15¢ for a dozen tablets or two full dozen for a quarter anywhere in the United States. Virtually 1¢ a tablet.

The way you use it is this: Two BAYER tablets when you feel a cold coming on. Take with a full glass of water. Then repeat, if necessary, according to directions in each package. This will act to fight fever, and pains which usually accompany colds. Relief comes rapidly.

Get the genuine BAYER ASPIRIN by asking for it by its full name: not by the name "aspirin" alone.

Soy Beans In the United States

The first soy beans were grown in the United States about fifty years ago in North Carolina as a fodder crop. The beans were never threshed for commercial milling.

In 1920 a research on the soy bean proposition was conducted. Three conclusions were reached:

(1) Certain strains of soy beans could be grown with success in the corn belt.

(2) The soy bean, being a legume, added to the fertility of the soil and represented an ideal crop.

(3) If the soy bean could be introduced into the corn belt we would be doing the farmer a service by bringing him a new profitable, cash crop and at the same time improve his soil. It would give us an opportunity of expanding our feed and oil business and place us in a position to further investigate the human food angle.

Student Press To Aid Youths Inclined To Be Newspaper People In United States

(International News Service)

PEKIN, Ind.—A new national newspaper, The Student Press, has been launched here for members of the student press of the United States, Victor Green, experienced in city, country and press association work, is editor.

Aims of the publication according to Green, are: First to report the activities of the 150,000 students of journalism and members of the staffs of students periodicals; second to help in producing better student newspapers, and, third, to help those who will go into journalism "to be leaders in their field and to help those who will not to have a knowledge and appreciation of papers they will read."

The Student Press also will make an effort to establish and maintain a friendly personal contact between school papers and between members of the student press throughout the country, according to Green.

The first issue of the paper was published in January and distributed to high schools and colleges throughout the country.

Ohio Has An Ace Boy Sportsman

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O.—Clyde Ridall, 15, son of a Cincinnati minister, is No. 1 boy sportsman in the opinion of the state conservation department.

The department received a letter from Clyde confessing that he had been taking rabbit, squirrel and skunk out of season. He explained that he never stopped to think that Ohio's conservation laws might differ from those in Pennsylvania where he formerly lived.

Attracted by Clyde's clearcut confession, the conservation department decided to take no action against him.

Seven vice presidents of the United States have died in office.

CHANGE IN HIM IS A MARVEL

World's Tonic Was Great Help to Sick Man

ANOTHER MAN GETS BACK TO HEALTH

"The way ill health has disappeared under the World's Tonic treatment is a never ceasing marvel to my friends. No one who knew me a year ago would believe I have been so perfectly restored to health," said Mr. James Smith, who lives at New Castle, Pa. "In fact I have never ceased to marvel at it myself. I was a sufferer from severe indigestion. In the morning I forced myself to eat a little, but about ten o'clock I was so weak I had to eat something. Then at lunch my food literally nauseated me, and often my stomach rejected it entirely. Sometimes I could eat in the evenings, but I had to be most careful, and often I could not sleep because of the discomfort in my stomach. You can easily believe I was all run down, and the question of whether I could go on with my work was becoming most serious. Frankly, I did not know what was going to become of me.

"Just at this time a man I knew told me how World's Tonic had relieved him from annoying attacks of dizziness. Since this was one of the troubles I suffered from I thought I would try it. I owe my recovery to World's Tonic. I felt better after a week's treatment. My bowels became regular, and my kidneys did their work without pain. Before I had taken two bottles my feeling of dizziness and the stuffiness from gas in my stomach and bowels disappeared. A few days more and I found myself with an appetite. I was afraid to eat much, after my former terrible experiences, but I got so hungry that I just had to. Then the marvel occurred. For the food I ate agreed with me! I cannot tell you how happy that made me, for I was on the way to real health. It took only five bottles to make me feel perfectly well. Now I eat heartily, but of course am a little careful. I awake in the morning refreshed and go to my work with interest. I sleep so much better and I have so much more energy that I know my recovery is only a matter of a little more time. Surely I have a right to show my gratitude to World's Tonic by telling everyone what a wonderful help it has been to me."

When hundreds of people, many of them right in this community, tell of such experiences as these, you surely owe it to yourself to use this remedy, which can be had at Eckerd's, Paisley's, or of any other first class druggist. (A-31).

Civil Service Bill Speeded Up In Congress

Would Put All Postmasters Under Civil Service, Roosevelt's Recommendation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—House leaders today decided to move speedily to put all postmasters under civil service in accordance with President Roosevelt's recommendation.

The rules committee met to pave the way for passage in the house today of the Ramspeck bill. The measure would affect all first, second and third class postmasters. Fourth class postmasters already are under civil service.

The Republicans planned to oppose the bill on the ground it would "freeze" politically-appointed postmasters in office for life.

Meantime, it was reported that Mr. Roosevelt has been reluctant to make many post office appointments because his executive order of July 20, providing for appointment of the highest person on a civil service eligible list, was not carried out.

THIS STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

ROCKY SPRING CHURCH

Do you know that one of the oldest Presbyterian churches in Pennsylvania is situated four miles north of Chambersburg?

Rocky Spring church was organized in 1738. It stands on a limestone knoll along the road from Chambersburg to Roxbury. From the base of the knoll flows a stream of pure spring water sufficient to furnish motive power for a small gristmill. The first church was a log building. This was replaced by one of brick in 1794, and this structure is still in excellent condition. The colonial architecture interests the hundreds of visitors who come to this landmark each year. It was from this church that Rev. John Creaghead led all the men of the congregation to serve in the Colonial army.

More Hospitals For Tuberculosis Needed In State

Pitt Medical Professor Sounds Need For Institutions at State Gathering

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—New hospitals providing an additional 1700 beds are needed in Pennsylvania to meet "a serious tuberculosis situation," declared Dr. C. Howard Marcy, speaking at the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis society here.

"In order to meet the serious tuberculosis situation in the state," Dr. Marcy, medical director of the Tuberculosis league of Pittsburgh and director of the State Tuberculosis society, "a fourth tuberculosis hospital should be built, building of tuberculosis hospitals in the counties should be secured, and tuberculosis wards should be provided in general hosptials."

Dr. Marcy, who is assistant professor of medicine at the University of Pittsburgh, pointed out that there were an estimated 30,000 cases of tuberculosis in the state.

State Forester Is Speaker At Kiwanis

Louis W. Fuess Tells Club Of Proposed Reforestation Program

Pennsylvania's legislature will be asked shortly to appropriate $500,000 to finance a new state-wide reforestation and land acquisition program, Louis W. Fuess, a district forester of the state's department of forests and waters, told the Kiwanis club during a luncheon address on Wednesday.

Mr. Fuess said he has every reason to believe that "most of this money would be spent in the western part of the state" and that, as a direct result, will come "better fishing, better hunting and better flood control."

First Vice President Jesse Kerr presided at a meeting in the absence of President Thomas L. Paden. The speaker was presented by Daniel H. Treloar, Jr.

Orville Potter, general chairman of the recnt Kiwanis show, "Headlines", reviewed that undertaking briefly and announced that a financial report will be made within a short time. The two-night performance was sponsored as a benefit for the club's underprivileged children's work.

During his remarks on the show, Mr. Potter praised the cooperation of the New Castle News management in the "Headlines" undertaking and introduced Jacob F. Rentz, general manager of the paper, and his son Richard, who attended the luncheon as the club's guests. Potter also lauded the work of all who helped the club.

Several "Don'ts" On New Auto Stickers

Rules On Back Of Tag Placed There To Be Read—Highway Department.

In a letter received by the local automobile inspection stations from Harrisburg, the owners of the stations have been forbidden to place the inspections stickers in any other position on the windshield than in the lower right hand corner of the glass During this past inspection period motorists would have the sticker placed at the top of the windshield and thereby have a clearer vision through the window. This year, however, some very helpful and needed information has been printed on the back of the stickers. Due to this fact the highway department wishes to make sure that this reading matter is so placed that it will be in front of the operators at all time.

The seals, therefore, were also placed in small holders and mounted on the license plates, bumpers and other places about the car, this is now forbidden. It has also been forbidden to cut the stickers in the shape of a Keystone. This practice has been noted on quite a number of cars. In the case of the new sticker, if the driver cuts it into the shape of a Keystone, he will cut the driving laws in such a way that they will be incomplete.

The last day for this inspection period is January 31. All automobiles must bear the new red sticker on the first day of February or the driver will be subject to a fine.

Your Income Tax In A Nutshell

WHO MUST FILE RETURNS

Returns are required of every single person who for the year 1936 had a gross income of $5,000 or more than a net income of $1,000 or more and of every husband and wife living together who for the year 1936 had an aggregate gross income of $5,000 or more or an aggregate net income of $2,500 or more. Widowers, widows, divorcees and married persons separated by mutual consent are classed as single persons. The personal exemptions are $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married persons living together and for heads of families.

Husband and wife living together may make separate returns of the income of each, or their income may be included in a single joint return. If separate returns are filed, one may not report income which belongs to the other, but must report only the income which actually belongs to him. If a joint return is filed, such return is treated as a taxable unit, and the income disclosed is subject to both the normal tax and the surtax.

Husband and wife may elect each year whether to file a joint return or separate returns. Where, however, joint or separate returns have been filed for a particular year, neither husband nor wife may after the due date of the return file an amended return or returns on a different basis for that year.

STOP THAT COLD THE FIRST DAY!

Give It No Chance to Survive Thru the Use of Half-way Measures!

Let no cold get the start on you! The so-called "common cold" is the start of more serious trouble than anything else.

The moment a cold appears, act to kill it, not merely to suppress it!

Depend on no half-way measures. A cold, being an internal infection, must be got at from the inside.

Treat a cold with a cold preparation, not with a medicine good for all kinds of ailments.

The treatment you want is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine.

Bromo Quinine is a cold tablet, made expressly for the treatment of colds.

It is also internal treatment and of four important effects.

First, Bromo Quinine opens the bowels, a desirable step in the treatment of colds.

Second, it checks the infection in the system, a vital step.

Third, it relieves the headache and fever.

Fourth, it tones the system and helps fortify against further attack.

Bromo Quinine tablets now come sugar-coated as well as plain. The sugar-coated are exactly the same as the regular, except that the tablets are coated with sugar for palatability.

Take no chances with any cold! The moment you feel a cold coming on, go right to your druggist for a package of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine.

Begin taking the tablets immediately, two every four hours. That procedure will usually break up a cold the first day and that's the speed you want.

Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is safe to take. Ask for, and insist upon, Grove's Bromo Quinine.

The small cost may save you dollars in medical bills.

Sabbath Services At Temple Israel

Regular Sabbath services will be held at Temple Israel on Friday evening at eight o'clock. The biblical portions for the third Sabbath of the Hebrew month of Shebat are taken from the eighteenth chapter of Exodus and the eighth chapter of Ecclesiastes. Rabbi Norman H. Diamond will conduct the services and preach.

Last Sunday evening, the rabbi led a discussion on "Concepts of Goodness" at a meeting of the Christian Endeavor at the First Christian church. Harry H. Frank will be the lay representative of the Jewish community at the Brotherhood Day service on February 14.

Because of bad roads, the monthly trip to Polk State school was postponed until Wednesday of this week. Mrs. Florence Slavons, president of the Tifereth Israel Sisterhood, is assisting the rabbi in the work sponsored by the Council of Jewish Women.

WPA Educators Hear State Men

Four-County Conference In Y. W. C. A. Wednesday Productive Of Results

Approximately 150 teachers and workers of the WPA adult education and recreation program heard their state leaders on Wednesday, January 27, when a four-county conference was held in the Y. W. C. A. The chief speaker of the day was Luther D. Grossman, assistant recreation director of the state of Pennsylvania.

Registration occupied the time between 8:45 and 9:15 after which group singing was led by L. G. Nicol, Jr., of Butler county, with Vincent Younger of Beaver county at the piano.

Elmer R. Patterson, director of district 14, introduced George Garman of Beaver county, who acted as chairman of the day. A panel on literacy was conducted by Mr. Garman, with different phases of the question being discussed.

Vincent Younger conducted a class in German and at the same time L. D. Grossman presented various phases of the recreation problem. At 11:45 lunch was served.

Naturalization classes occupied the early afternoon hours with Miss Mary Tabisz of Lawrence county in charge. A group in literacy was conducted by A. J. Nolton of Beaver county with the various phases of the question presented by teachers engaged in those phases. Mr. Grossman concluded the day's program.

Monday, February 1 Is Promotion Day

Students of the New Castle public schools will move up on Monday, February 1, which is promotion day. The new semester starts on that day and the grade schools will move the upper classmen to the junior high schools and the junior high schools will move the upper classmen to the senior high school.

Union Organizers Injured In Crash

Four Are In Hospital After Auto Is Forced Into Pole Along Road.

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Jan. 28.—Feelings between striking union workers and non-striking employes of General Motors corporation reached a breaking point in Michigan today after four union organizers were sent to a hospital as a climax to their dramatic flight from mob violence.

Darting in between a police escort of six cars, a battered gray auto side-swiped the taxicab in which the four unionists were riding in Flint, and sent it careening into a telephone pole. The pole was clipped off and the four organizers in the cab hurt.

Those injured were Arthur Frederhoff of Saginaw, Frank O'Rourke of Saginaw, W. J. Hymer of Pittsburgh and Joseph Ditzel of Toledo, all union organizers. At Hurley hospital in Flint, doctors reported Frederhoff had a fractured skull and was near death. The other three suffered only minor injuries.

Also hurt was Arthur Place, 23, Saginaw, the taxicab driver.

Judge Musmanno Removed From Post Of President Judge

Climax Is Reached In Feud Over Night Court For Drunken Drivers.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—Judge M. A. Musmanno today was removed as president judge of quarter sessions court by President Judge Ambrose B. Reid of common pleas court as a climax to their feud over a night court for drunken drivers.

Musmanno, despite his vigorous protests, was shifted to common pleas court. Judge Frank P. Patterson was assigned to preside over quarter sessions court until February 1 when Judge Joseph A. Richardson automatically succeeds him.

Judge Reid announced the order a few minutes after Musmanno bolted a meeting of the judges at which the action was determined upon. Earlier, he had been heard shouting his protests behind the closed doors of the room. Judge Reid said the action on the judges with Musmano absent was unanimous.

Musmanno, conducting a vigorous one-man crusade against drunken drivers, ordered night sessions so he could personally sentence all defendants before stepping down as president judge, a rotative position. This, Judge Reid decreed, was unnecessary and against the dignity of the court. When District Attorney Andrew T. Park and three other court attaches obeyed Judge Reid's order barring night sessions, they were cited for contempt of court by Musmanno.

Reduce Varicose Swollen Veins
This Safe Easy Way Prove It At Small Cost
Swollen veins may become dangerous and sometimes break. Sufferers are advised to get an original bottle of Emerald Oil at Eckerd's Drug Store or any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once with this healing oil. A small bottle will last a long time because it is very concentrated and a little goes a very long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush or finger tips as directed until the swelling is reduced. Refund is guaranteed if not satisfied. So effective is Emerald Oil that it is highly useful in reducing troublesome simple swellings due to strain and hastens their disappearance.

Local People Home After Cuba Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Heizman of Highland avenue are home from an enjoyable trip to Miami, Fla., and Havana, Cuba.

The journey to Miami was made in two and one half days by automobile on a route outlined by the New Castle Motor club. By taking a Pan American air liner back to Miami from Cuba they avoided a collision of the ocean liner Florida and a Norwegian freighter. It took the Florida 12 hours to make the trip from Miami to Havana, whereas the local couple made the return via air in two hours and six minutes.

Mr. Heizman, who is sales agent for the National Cash Register company here, states that Florida residents are complaining about business this year. They believe that it is due to the warm weather the northerners have been having at home this year.

KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—One person was killed and three others were injured early today as a result of a head-on collision of two automobiles.

James H. Minor, 45, driver of one car, died within a few minutes after his car crashed into one driven by Irvin Turner, 41, of nearby Dormont.

Flood Relief Is Speeded Up

Relief Machinery Created During Depression Enables Government To Maintain Efficiency

WEATHER WAS UNUSUAL TYPE

By CHARLES P. STEWART,
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The United States is under obligations to the depression for one thing, anyway: the relief machinery created in the last four years has equipped the government to meet emergencies like this season's flood disaster with a maximum of speed and efficiency.

Federal agencies admittedly were taken by surprise by the magnitude of their task as conditions developed themselves. Yet at President Roosevelt's order they threw themselves into it with the competency of long preparation. It was as if they had been organized for the particular purpose of the moment.

Reason For Destruction

What makes the present floods so especially destructive is the fact that they have swept such thickly settled areas. Furthermore, they came with exceptional suddenness. Inundations due to the melting of heavy snows can be foreseen and folk in the valleys which seem certain to suffer can be warned well in advance to take whatever precautions are possible. The current season's peculiar weather, however, was unpredictable until the waters already were rising dangerously. Day-by-day forecasts, of course, were made as usual, but nearly a month of almost continuous drenching downpours throughout so large a portion of the country was much more than weather experts confess they had counted on.

Periodical

About once in every three or four years devastating floods sweep considerable parts of the country.

During each of these visitations the cry of never again is heard from congressional committees on irrigation, reclamation, rivers and harbors and flood control.

It continues to echo and re-echo for a few months after each successive flood has subsided.

Then it fades away gradually until the next overflow.

It is not altogether that nothing is done between inundations. There is plenty of levee building. New floodways are constructed. Fresh spillways are provided. Controls of various sorts are devised.

Partially Effective

These precautions are partially effective in spots. But whenever they prevent a flood in one area they tend to aggravate matters elsewhere. The nub of meteorology seems to be: a certain amount of water must find its way from the northern uplands to the ocean, or more particularly the Gulf of Mexico. If one of its channels is obstructed it inevitably finds another one.

Army engineers say they have solved the problem but never have been permitted to make their solution effective.

Their prescription: Control headwaters. Dam up little streams. Not try to keep the water from finding its level ultimately. That is hopeless. But keep rain water and melting snow from running off too rapidly. Then, although there still will be occasional freshets, they will not be bad ones.

Objections

However, down-river communities do not like this program.

They want down-river engineering because it is locally profitable. The up-river folk are correspondingly unenthusiastic at the idea of being taxed to protect down-stream population. They do not have floods where they live. They furnish the water which overflows the lower reaches of the big rivers, but their motto is: "Let the down-stream inhabitants foot the bill."

It is not a sound argument, but it takes an expert to understand why flood prevention should center in states which are not afflicted by floods.

Sources Overlooked

The congressional practice, therefore, is to vote money to control floods which already have become uncontrollable while refusing appropriations to nip floods in their incipiency.

The army engineers have plans drawn which they are convinced would reduce overflows to a minimum.

But thus far they have not been able to get the funds to do much. Maybe these last floods will prove to have been destructive enough to convince the public that adoption of the army engineers' specifications would be true economy.

Maybe not also. It will be easy enough to convince Cincinnati and Louisville. Perhaps not so easy to convince communities 600 or 700 miles away.

Truly enough, such an inundation as the present one could be stopped by nothing less than creating a virtual ocean. But those last destructive few feet might have been prevented.

Now Easy To TAKE OFF WEIGHT

Mrs. Alfred W. Johnson, 837 Sumner St., Indianapolis, Ind.: Have had wonderful results with Korjena. Have lost 3 to 4 pounds each week and am delighted with this treatment. I have found Korjena entirely harmless and wish to say I now feel better than I have for years. I am only too glad to recommend Korjena to other women.

No matter how hard you have tried to reduce without good results, you owe it to yourself to try Korjena, the famous fat reducer.

We recommend and sell Korjena Tablets because they are a scientific enemy to fat. They dissolve the fat, making it become liquid so it passes from the bowels through daily elimination. You can actually see fat disappear with the very first two weeks treatment.

It's easy, simply take one tiny Korjena Tablet after each meal. EAT WHAT YOU WANT but eat moderately, no violent exercise, no tiresome waiting, no strict diet. Soon you will see a decided change. Ugly surplus fat where most prominent gradually disappears leaving your skin smooth and firm.

Enjoy the sensation of seeing that burdensome fat just melt away. Surprise your friends by having a trim and slender figure. Korjena is Guaranteed SAFE—it's harmless and not expensive. Don't wait, give this marvelous reducing treatment a trial. If not delighted in two weeks, we'll see that your money is promptly refunded.

Remember! Korjena constantly Dissolves Fat

High Blood Pressure can be reduced in many cases and symptoms relieved, says eminent physician

Dr. Frederic Damrau, eminent physician of New York City, says that ALLIMIN Essence of Garlic Parsley Tablets often help to reduce High Blood Pressure, and that the continued use of these tablets at prescribed intervals helps to keep the blood pressure down "by dilating the peripheral capillaries of the body surface, thus lessening the burden upon the heart." This is only one of the beneficial effects offered by the use of these tablets, says Dr. Damrau. To get the full facts, send your name and address, and an extremely interesting booklet of facts and valuable information will be sent you free. Better still, give ALLIMIN Tablets a trial and learn for yourself how much they may help you. ALLIMIN Tablets are tasteless, odorless and guaranteed free from dangerous drugs of every kind. A large package is only 50c. Special economy size is only $1.00. At all good drug stores.

Would Provide Sewage Plant Auxiliary Pump

Councilmen Believe Situation In Seventh Ward Would Be Remedied

DISCUSS MATTER AT DAY'S SESSION

Councilmen James L. Fink and Joseph D. Alexander favor the purchase of a pump which may cost approximately $5,000, for the city disposal plant which during high water will force sanitary sewage into the Mahoning river, according to a discussion during council meeting at the city hall Friday.

They argued that with high water in the Mahoning river, it is impossible to discharge sewage from the plant. They said that if a pump was installed it would result in sewage being forced into the river should high water develop.

City Engineer Glenn Throop said that one of the reasons for the flood situation in the flat section of Liberty street, Seventh ward, was the amount of surface water which entered the sanitary sewer system.

He said the disposal plant was built to handle a capacity of 15,000,000 gallons of sewage water daily. He said the normal daily amount is 7,000,000 gallons and declared the downspout situation here should be remedied. This water has been filling the sanitary sewers to 15,000,000 gallons capacity, he said.

Throop further stated that the surface water which entered the sanitary system exerted such pressure on the pipes that leaks occurred. He said if the downhpout water was diverted into the storm sewer system, the present situation would probably not reoccur.

Fink and Alexander said that in their opinion a pump of sufficient power to force out 15,000,000 gallons of sewage into the high river water should be installed as soon as possible and elimination of the surface water should next be considered.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath telephoned WPA officials relative to the downspout survey made by the WPA last year. Officials said they would today produce the survey with suggestions to the city officials as to how best to eliminate the present situation.

It appears there are many properties here with downspouts which carry water into sanitary sewers. Under a plan informally discussed today the city will ask the WPA to revamp the downspout situation, the property owner paying only for the materials.

The council believes that steps should be taken immediately to prevent sewage from leaving the disposal plant and which causes it to flow back into cellars and leak into streets, such as has happened in the Seventh ward.

Correct This Sentence: "If ever I get another chance like that," said the man, "I will have sence enough to make the most of it."

Homeless — Women And Children, Victims Of Great Flood

Homeless, these women and children, victims of the greatest flood on record, are cared for in a Red Cross station—a converted factory—at Evansville, Ind. where tens of thousands were evacuated from their homes. Virtually this entire city of 110,000 was flooded.

Naval Reserves Aid In Evacuation As Ice Adds To Flood Peril

Naval reserves evacuate residents of Evansville, Ind., as flood waters of the Ohio river reach the highest stage on record. Observe the ice in the water. This ice runs through city streets, hampering the work of rescue. The naval reserves, operating in day and night shifts, wear extra heavy coats. A power boat is towing the coast guard cutter.

FIRST OPTIMISM IN HISTORIC FLOOD DISASTER IS SEEN

ever contemplated in the history of the country, should the levee system break down or new tons of water rush toward the "Father of Waters."

Although the slight recessions—8 inches from a crest of 80 feet at Cincinnati—lent optimism, they did nothing today to relieve the immediate suffering of 750,000 homeless and others in need.

The Ohio river still stretched out, 25 miles on either side up to depths of 30 and 40 feet, and the danger to Mississippi levees even at the lower crests predicted was still great.

200 Dead In Louisville

Stricken Louisville, Ky., where at least 200 are believed to have died either in flood waters or from disease, moved forward with a giant evacuation of some 200,000 persons.

Paducah, Ky., where the murky waters coursed through the streets 10 feet and more deep, struggled to complete evacuation of 25,000.

Memphis, Tenn., soon to be the "flood capital" of the nation, received 13,000 refugees from more low-lying areas surrounding, and prepared to received 50,000 more.

Evansville, Ind., half covered by water and one of the few lower Ohio river points to report a still slowly rising stage today, continued gradual evacuation and the fight against disease.

Shawneetown, Ill., and New Albany and Jeffersonville, Ind., lay in swirling waters, mostly evacuated and reduced to shambles.

Battle To Strengthen Levee

Harrisburg, Ill., which the river reached out 22 miles to surround, was isolated and industry paralyzed.

New Madrid, Mo., center of an area in which 20 have died, today was the focal point from which an army of 4,000 men battled to strengthen the levee.

New Madrid also served as haven for fifty persons rescued from the giant, 131,000-acre floodway into which the Mississippi was released with dynamite to relieve pressure at Cairo, Ill., and points farther south.

The havoc wrought by the most devastating of all floods was so great that most officials considered the $400,000,000 figure at which the damage was unofficially set too conservative.

The real story of the floods, its tremendous tragedy, its terrific toll of lives, and the gigantic property damage, cannot be told until the debris-laden waters recede and the reconstruction of cities, towns and farms begin.

Death Toll Indefinite

Each of the nearly 1,000,000 refugees, men, women and children, is a personal tragedy in himself today, but the damage and death cannot be accurately determined while flood waters still hide them.

Stricken cities along the Ohio which reported receding waters today included Pittsburgh, Wheeling, W. Va., St. Mary's, W. Va., Parkersburg, W. Va., Huntington, W. Va., Ashland, Ky., Portsmouth, O., Maysville, Ky., Cincinnati, O., and Louisville, Ky.

Evansville, Ind., and Cairo, Ill., alone of the major Ohio points still saw rising levels.

Only Flood In Ohio River

Washington, Jan. 28.—The raging Ohio river flood was proceeding on its own way today, without any additional burden from its tributaries, the weather bureau reported after a survey of conditions throughout the great valley.

The flood was described as centering entirely in the lower Ohio river, with no help from the upper Mississippi, the Missouri, or any other of the valley's tributaries except the Ohio.

Weather conditions, from the source of the Mississippi in Minnesota, the Missouri river valley, and even the Ohio itself indicated no further additional waters to reinforce the present flood stream whose crest is now nearing Evansville, Ind.

Make Evacuation Plans

Washington, Jan. 28.—A feverish race was sped today to evacuate the entire Mississippi valley should the berserk waters smash through the defenses of the Mississippi's billion-dollar levee system.

Should complete evacuation prove necessary—and engineers held grave fears it might—the war department prepared to depopulate a 50,000 square mile area along a 100-mile-wide strip of the Mississippi river country from Cairo, Ill., to the Gulf.

The vast emergency program contemplated possible movement of upwards of 1,000,000 persons from the danger zone.

The army high command emphasized the evacuation would be made progressively only on advance warning by army engineers that a breakdown of the vast Mississippi levee system is imminent.

Guard Against Panic

"From present knowledge it appears likely that the flood waters will pass down the valley without causing wide inundation," asserted Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staff. "People must not become panic stricken."

But orders crackled from the chief of staff to the commanding generals of the Fourth, Seventh and Eighth Corps areas to put their troops on a wartime footing. They were given authority to conscript and commandeer "all personnel and material pertaining to any federal executive department or independent bureau which is engaged in flood relief work."

The evacuation plan calls for the use of 35,000 trucks and all available railroad transportation to move the valley dwellers to high ground, if the emergency develops.

The army is prepared to house, feed and give medical attention to the refugees. Refugee camps would be established back in the hills.

The corps commanders' orders assert their "primary mission is evacuation of people to high ground" on advance warning by the army engineers or the chief of staff.

"It will be a very difficult fight to hold the main line levees below Cairo, especially in the Memphis area," their orders stated.

The president thus sought to prevent by every possible means further loss of life.

Dreamer Doomed To Die In Chair

Pardon Board Refuses Plan For Commutation Of Sentence To Life Imprisonment.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 28.—Robert Dreamer today was doomed anew to the electric chair for the attack-slaying ten years ago of 18-year-old Thelma Young, of Washington county.

The 40-year-old defendant—pleading insanity—was refused a commutation to life imprisonment by the State Board of Pardons. The board deliberated only 15 minutes after hearing arguments on the appeal.

Only a last-minute reprieve from the governor can halt Dreamer's execution at Rockview penitentiary Sunday midnight.

Reapportionment Given Approval

HARRISBURG, Jan. 28.—Secretary of Revenue John B. Kelly chairman of the Democratic committee in Philadelphia, today was in favor of "any properly designed reapportionment".

The announcement came following a conference with Rep. Frank J. Zappala, Allegheny Democrat, who intends to inject the controversial reapportionment issue into the General Assembly's deliberations.

Reapportionment in Pennsylvania is now six years overdue; the 1874 constitution requires that this should be done following every decennial census.

Lincoln Hi-Y Club Dines At Y. M. C. A.

New officers of the Lincoln Hi-Y club of Senior high school made their bow last night at a tureen dinner of the membership in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A.

Twenty-five youths attended the dinner, enjoyed the pep singing led by Gordon Thomas, cheered the new leaders and their new advisor, Gerald Morris, and heard Tom McCormick named as the new program chairman, and Joe Proctor as the new membership chairman. John H. Templeton, Jr., former club advisor and now an Allegheny College student, was a guest.

George Gardner is the new president of the group.

Probe Death Of Erie Engineer

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 28.—Interstate Commerce commission investigators today probed the death of Engineer Alvin H. Anstead in an explosion of his locomotive here. Nelson Gardner, 49, his fireman, was in a critical condition but expected to live.

Pennsylvania railroad officials ascribed the explosion to a defective safety valve and low water in the boiler.

NYA Classes To Be Fitted To Needs

Organization Attempting To Compensate For Educational Deficiencies

Recently a meeting of the entire working force of the National Youth Administration in New Castle was held in the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A.

At this meeting, it was made known that it was the aim of the program to give each worker an opportunity to better himself or herself in an educational or vocational way. Plans for future training classes were discussed and the desires of those on the program for classes not now in existence were given consideration.

The greater majority of those on this program are already enrolled in classes of some kind, that they might make up for a lack of opportunity to attend school in the past few years, due to financial distress. Many of these youths were forced to discontinue their school life with High school graduation only a few months off.

Make Up Deficiency

The National Youth Administration is attempting, with the cooperation of the Education and Recreation Divisions of the W. P. A. and whatever other local agencies are available to make up in some way for these conpulsory sacrifices made by youth.

Attempts will be made to set up classes to fit the needs of those who have been unable to obtain the necessary education to prepare for life and also to encourage these young people to learn to use wisely as well the great amount of leisure thrust upon them by lack of work in the period of adjustment for which so very few adults have been prepared.

A discussion period was granted that all might have an opportunity to voice his need and it is hoped provision will be made for some training or class work to suit the needs of all.

President's Ball Plans Complete

While the general chairman of the President's Ball, Attorney Clarence A. Patterson had been handicapped in the past week by illness, the ball will go on Friday night as scheduled in the Cathedral.

Out of deference to the commencement exercises of the New Castle senior high which will take place in the Cathedral Friday night, the President's Ball will not start until after the conclusion of the commencement. From then on until one thirty the affair will continue.

Like 6000 other communities in United States New Castle is putting on this President's Ball as an aid towards the curbing of the dread infantil paralysis Instead of donating all the proceeds to Warm Springs Foundation however, 70 per cent of the receipts will stay in New Castle being divided between the Jameson Memorial and the New Castle hospitals, equally.

A huge birthday cake will be raffled off at the ball and a number of door prizes will be given. Miss Nellie Brady, well known local danseuse and her girls will present a floor show.

Tickets have been on sale in various stores throughout the city but Ticket Sales Manager Carl W. Hauffler stated today that tickets would be available at the door on Friday night.

Despite the many calls for relief which have been made in the past two weeks, it is expected that the crowd on Friday night in the Cathedral will be large.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

SEVENTH WARD POSTAL STATION LEASE EXTENDED

Sub-Postal Station Will Remain For Another Ten Year Period.

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—The United States post office department announced today it had leased for another ten years the present quarters of the Mahoningtown postal station.

This action was accepted as definite evidence the department has abandoned all thought of closing the station for at least another decade.

The department renewed its lease for the postal quarters with the Citizens National bank and the estate of Judson C. Norris. The station is located on the west side of Liberty street between Cherry and Madison streets. The lease includes present equipment, safe, heat, light, power, parcel post and postal savings furniture when necessary.

Still, harsh old-time parents might have been proud of their kids, as moderns are, if the kids had been like the modern ones.

Auxiliary Meets Wednesday Evening

New Candidates Are Initiated at Mabel Wilson Auxiliary Meeting, Wednesday.

Members of the Mabel Wilson Auxiliary held their regular biweekly business meeting Wednesday evening at the Eagles hall, South Jefferson street.

During the lodge meeting two new candidates were initiated. At the conclusion of the initiation, the remaining hours were spent playing bingo, with prizes going to Mrs. George Fisher and Mrs. Harry Davis.

Later a tempting lunch was served by the following committee: Mrs. Ralph Metzler, Mrs. Clarence Collingwood and Mrs. Norman Grimm.

The next regular meeting will be on February 10.

Today, members of the B. W. R. club and auxiliary are spending the day in Pittsburgh.

Water Receding In Seventh Ward

High waters which have flooded the southern end of Mahoningtown during the past few days commenced to drop slowly early today as New Castle street department men broke open sanitary sewers on the Pennsy grounds.

As soon as the sewer lids came off, the ice and water combination started to flow into the sanitary sewers. Within a few days, "Kilkenny" will be clear of water, it was believed.

HOME GUARDS TO MEET

Members of the Home Guard Missionary Society of the Mahoning M. E. church will meet this evening at the church for their biweekly meeting. The time of the meeting is 7 o'clock.

DAVY CIRCLE TO MEET

Frances Hyde will be hostess to members of the Beatrice Davy Circle of the Mahoning M. E. church this evening, as they gather at her home on North Cedar street, for a meeting.

Pinball Machines Head For Europe

Ruled Out As Gambling Machines In District Of Columbia

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—"My pinball machines lie over the ocean," became the theme song of the Washington novelty companies when Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue of the District of Columbia court, climaxed a 10-day trial by ruling these machines "gambling devices" and "in violation of the law".

Following the decision, the Independent Sales Co. of Philadelphia purchased nearly all the machines in Washington and said it would ship them to all parts of Europe, including Paris, London and Berlin—even as far as Tsing, China. The machines will be shipped from New York. The E. O. Likens Co. will send most of their machines to Canada.

J. Guy Arrington, president of the Pioneer Novelty Co., which made approximately $162,000 in 1935 on the machines, plans to appeal from O'Donoghue's decision.

Assistant U. S. Attorney John J. Wilson, in charge of litigation involving the "nickel a shot" games, has now aimed his guns at the "claw machine" business, and hopes to have these devices declared illegal also.

During the trial, which brought bureau of standards and other government scientists into court, it was estimated that Washingtonians gave approximately $30,000,000 per year to the companies.

One Little Pig Follows Chef's Wife Like Pup

(International News Service)

MADRID—This is a story about three little pigs which I bought a few days ago in the village of Meco on the road to Álcala de Henares, on my way back from an inspection tour of the Siguenza front.

The minute I laid eyes on the pigs I knew what Walt Disney's "Big Bad Wolf" meant when he spoke of "the pleasures of anticipation."

I placed the little pigs in the care of a Hungarian lady, the wife of a chef at a famous Madrid restaurant which is now closed. They probably were not more than one week old. The lady had to feed them with a bottle.

Suckling pigs are a great delicacy here. They are served roasted. The restaurant "Bote" with 200 years of experience behind it, built a world reputation solely on the merits of its "roast suckling pig."

Certain conditions prevail in Madrid due solely to the Civil War. So it happens that a person now the professor of three little pigs finds himself practically besieged. Fellows with lean and hungry looks would ask the whereabouts of the little pigs. There was a ring of determination in their voices.

So I began to worry about myself as much as about my charges. Finally I decided that they were old enough for a certain contingency. Several invitations went out.

And that is how the six Big Bad Wolves sat around the table in the house of the Hungarian chef, right under the shadow of the mighty new bull ring, better known as the "Cathedral of Bullfighting" in the city's outskirts.

There were three diplomats, a president of an international banking firm, a Spanish journalist and myself.

When it was all over, all that was left of the three little pigs was one of them. The chef's wife had firmly refused to give him up. He follows her around like a pup and never looks as contented as when suckling in her arms.

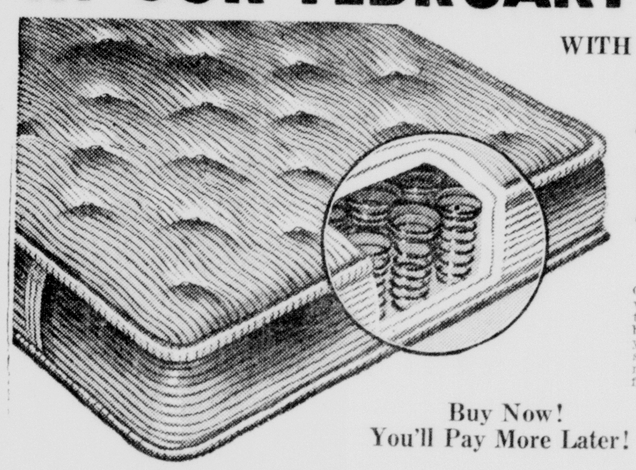

Released

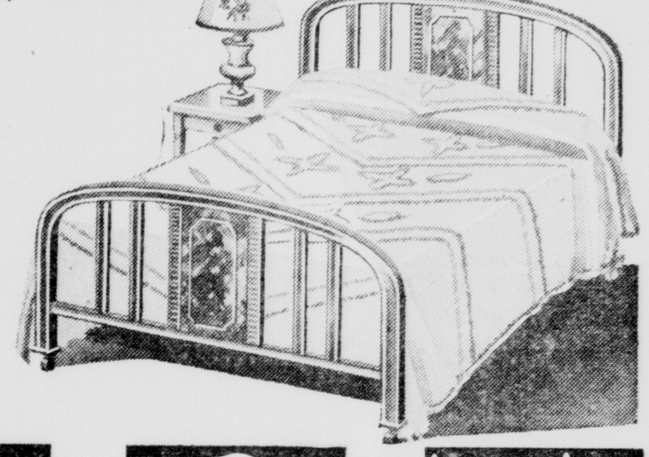

Mrs. Jeannette Trader (above) was cleared of any connection with the shooting of her estranged husband, Clarence Trader, utility magnate, after long questioning by the Snow Hill, Md., police. Trader was found shot in her home.

Unidentified Man Is Found Dead In Automobile At Erie

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 28.—A purple velvet flower, believed to have been torn off a woman's coat or dress, today provided the only clue in the mysterious death of an unidentified man, found shot through the temple in a car parked near a hospital emergency entrance.

The crumpled flower was found in the front seat beside him. Alongside was a .22 calibre rifle. The man was estimated to be about 30.

Police were seeking to identify a woman believed to be implicated in the case. The car was registered in the name of Herman Giesche, of Erie.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

MEMPHIS FLOOD CAPITAL OF NATION TODAY

Preparing For Refugee Influx

City Also Center Of Battle To Save Levee System On Mississippi

MAYOR BECOMES VIRTUAL DICTATOR

(International News Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 28.—Memphis was the flood capital of the nation today.

As the United States Army planned the evacuation of a half million persons—if and when necessary—along the Mississippi from Cairo to New Orleans, army engineers prepared for the battle to save the 1200 miles of levees along the big river.

Engineers expressed confidence the levees will hold, even under the strain of the great flow of water pouring into the Mississippi from the Ohio and tributary streams below Cairo.

Mayor Watkins Overton was a virtual dictator today, voted extraordinary powers by the city commission to prepare for the great influx of refugees expected when the Mississippi reaches its flood crest early next week.

Prepare For Crest

River engineers expected the river to reach a crest of 62 feet at Cairo by Sunday, and four days later to reach Memphis. Thus, the army and relief agencies have seven days in which to prepare for the crisis, and ample time to evacuate residents if it should be deemed necessary.

Approximately 50,000 refugees are already being quartered here, and another 40,000 are reported enroute.

Across the river in sorely stricken Arkansas, the death roll had mounted to 24 today. The St. Francis river was slowly receding in its upper stretches, but the crest was moving downstream, south of Marked Tree between the Mississippi river and Crowley's Ridge. Wreaking its grim harvest.

Fear Levee Break

At Mellwood, Ark., an army of men worked at the levee, where a break was reported imminent. Thousands of persons, a few belongings in hand, trudged from their homes to emergency camps established along Crowley's Ridge, a strip of high ground running north and south through East Arkansas about 30 miles back from the river.

Arkansas authorities directing rescue and relief work refused to estimate the number made homeless by the flood waters coursing through the eastern section of the state.

"The number increases hourly," Maj. Pat Harris declared today. "There is no way of accurately estimating the number of refugees registering at the emergency camps."

Meanwhile the Red Cross and the army was collecting huge stores of supplies here for distribution to refugee camps in the event the wholesale evacuation becomes a necessity.

Nearly 8 Inches Of Rain During Five-Day Period

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Jan. 28.—Figures supplied by Dr. H. W. Harmon, who operated the weather station at Grove City college since it was opened 25 years ago, offer adequate explanation for the floods in this district.

His records reveal that Grove City had one-sixth of a normal year's rainfall on five days in January, with the greatest precipitation on the 24th, when 2.15 inches of rain in the afternoon and evening established a new record here. The total precipitation was 7.5 inches for five days, which is double the usual amount for a winter month. This community has about 40 inches per year, Dr. Harmon said.

The greatest 24-hour record was set in 1913, when from noon on March 24 to noon on the 25th, the rainfall was 3.3 inches. The recent rains, however, fell on a district completely saturated by previous wet weather, and the entire volume ran off into streams to cause floods.

Installation Of P. H. C. Officers

New Leaders Installed Last Night; Frank Kennedy Placed in Pres. Chair

With Grand Sentinel Paul Wiechelt of Homestead as the installing officer, new leaders of the Protected Home Circle No. 5 of New Castle were placed into office at the I. O. O. F. hall Wednesday night. They are as follows:

Past president—Mrs. Edna Bright.
President—Frank Kennedy.
Vice president—Miss Ethel Cowles.
Guardian—Mrs. Katherine Cowles.
Chaplain—Miss Eleanor Double.
Secretary—Miss Sara Dandy.
Accountant—George W. Muse.
Treasurer—George W. Wyman.
Guide—Miss Betty Brown.
Companion—Miss Esther McHattie.
Sentinel—George Bright.
Watchman—Mrs. Flora Cunningham.

Mr. Wiechelt was assisted in the impressive installation service by his brothers Earl and Edwin. Miss Gladys Erwin, supreme secretary, presided in a very capable manner. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wiechelt, Earl and Edwin Wiechelt of Homestead and Supervisor Ivan Ishman of Sharon were the special guests.

At the close of the ceremony lunch was served by the guardian's committee.

In two weeks, on the 10th of February, the P. H. C. will have its next regular meeting.

TWO COLLISIONS OF AUTOS HERE

Louis Dudek, 1804 South Jefferson street, drove an auto that was in an accident with a Bell Telephone truck, Pennsylvania license S952J, at the post office yesterday. The truck struck Dudek's car, he reported to police, owing to ice on the street.

Raymond L. Maurer, who gave his address as Michigan, and Frank Roscette, 22 Terrace avenue, drove automobiles that were in a collision at South Mercer and South streets at 11 a. m. yesterday, according to a report made to police.

Leading a cortege in the cemetery at Ikseton, England, the Rev. Reginald Money, vicar of Holy Trinity, failed to see the grave amid the snow and fell in. He landed on his feet, badly jolted, but climbed out on a ladder and conducted the service.

1200-Mile Sandbag Wall Along Mississippi As Worst Is Expected

In expectation of possibly the worst flood of all time, levees and retaining walls along the Mississippi river, already strained by the rush of the Ohio into the Mississippi, are being strengthened. For 1,200 miles along the Mississippi, from Cairo, Ill., down to Louisiana, solid sandbag walls are being built. This photo was taken at Bessie, Tenn., approximately 100 miles north of Memphis.

Visitors Flock To Louisville

(International News Service)

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Louisville in 1936 was host to 72,743 convention visitors attending 299 conventions, according to a report compiled by the Louisville Convention and Publicity League.

Of the meetings 27 were national, 47 regional, 204 state and 21 larger sales conferences.

Assuming the average expenditure of the 72,743 delegates was $50 over a three-day period the city realized $3,637,150 from the guests in hotel bills, taxi fares, amusements and retail sales, according to the league.

The figures are an increase over the previous year.

During threshing on a Falkland, Scotland, farm, a hen was found imprisoned inside the grain stack, and evidently had been there for several weeks. It had survived by eating the grain, but had laid no eggs and was weak from the lack of water. It quickly recovered.

Student Laundry Takes Long Trips

Clothing Sent Home For Washing In Hopes Of Receiving "Home Eats" In Return

(International News Service)

WELLESLEY, Mass.—It's a long, long trail for Wellesley college laundry.

Instead of having their clothes laundered at local establishments, the girl students send the "wash" home on trips up to 7,000 miles.

Miss Margaret Breen, of Caldwell, N. J., and her 15 assistants find the business of sending laundry of the girl students to the latter's homes, a profitable one.

"Sending laundry home is popular because the returned bundles often come back with home cooking in them," said Miss Breen.

About 1,000 bundles are sent from the college each month. Some go to Texas and some as far as California. They are usually sent "collect" and come back "prepaid."

Lose Unsightly FAT! Quickly—Safely with WATE-OFF

Drugless Preparation for Scientific Weight Reducing

WATE-OFF is a compound of pure vegetable matter. WATE-OFF contains no dangerous drugs of any kind—no dinitrophenol—no salts or other harmful laxatives. There is absolutely nothing in WATE-OFF that can do you the slightest harm. Many users report that after taking WATE-OFF for just a short time they actually feel better than they have in years. Yet, WATE-OFF makes it possible for overweight women, and men too, to take off five pounds a week, or even more, without strenuous exercising and without starvation diets. In fact, as you take off weight with WATE-OFF, you not only LOOK better but you actually FEEL better.

The instructions say: Take WATE-OFF before meals, 3 or 4 tablets a day, then eat your hearty fill. Users say: "Results are simply amazing." Unsightly flesh frequently melts away like magic—and, without causing the skin to sag or wrinkle as so frequently happens with fast-acting but dangerous drug reducers.

You have seen WATE-OFF advertised in Pictorial Review, Physical Culture and other leading magazines at $2.45. Here now is your opportunity to purchase this same fine preparation for only $1.19, with our guarantee that if you're not satisfied with results you may return the empty carton and we will return your money.

Dr. T. G. McCleary Ends School Work

Former Local Man Retires As Superintendent Of Braddock Schools

After 40 years of service in school work, Dr. Thomas G. McCleary has retired from active duty. Effective at the end of this semester he retires as superintendent of the Braddock, Pa., schools, a position he has held for more than 17 years.

Dr. McCleary is a former New Castle man and has visited the educational conventions here at various times. He was awarded his master's degree by the Unievrsity of Chicago, and his doctorate by Westminister college.

Marking his retirement a teachers' banquet was held Monday night, January 25, in the Penn-Loncoln hotel, Wilkinsburg, at which William C. Evans presided. As a token of esteem of the teachers Dr. McCleary was presented with a wardrobe trunk and Mrs. McCleary with an overnight bag.

Dr. McCleary has had a long and honorable career in school work and he now takes advantage of the retirement system effective in this state. About three and a half years ago he lost the sight of his eyes but has carried on despite this handicap.

Fruit Growers Of County Meet

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Jan. 28.—At the annual meeting of the Mercer County Fruit Growers held January 26 at noon at the American Legion community hall, John Hughes of Mercer was selected for president, L. J. Wilhelm of Sharon vice president, J. M. Gibson secretary and treasurer.

The following directors were chosen: Wallace C. Campbell, Arthur Courtney of Mercer, Lowery Henderson of Hendersonville, W. C. McClelland of Springfield and S. G. Bell of East Lackawannock.

The dinner was held in celebration of the incorporation of the society, which is one of the county's oldest. A charter was granted the club by the governor. Addresses were made by Rodger Johnson of Mercer, L. T. Dennison of Pennsylvania State college. Motion pictures were shown and a lecture given by R. S. Kirby of State college.

Fat Girl Laughs and Grows Slim

Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

Here's a way to get rid of ugly fat that works hand in hand with Nature. Millions of people are losing millions of pounds of flabby flesh and getting back slender figures, without the need of starvation diets or back-breaking exercises.

Medical science has discovered that one of the causes of too much fat lies in a little gland. Doctors correct this condition by feeding this little gland the substance it lacks—and Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on this same method. Millions are using them with success. They are prepared by a famous medical laboratory. Their formula is published in every package so you know what you are taking.

So don't waste time and money with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Go to your druggist today and get a box of Marmola. Try this simple, easy way to get rid of excess fat.

Acute Water Shortage In Cincinnati—Springs Help Solve Problem

With an acute drinking water shortage in Cincinnati, many of the city's 750,000 residents trudge up and down with buckets, jugs and bottles, taking advantage of springs they recalled from other days. Here are Clifton avenue residents obtaining water from a hillside spring. All water must be boiled before drinking.

In Normal Times This Is "Most Fashionable" Corner In Louisville

Water, four to six feet deep, courses down Louisville's chief business thoroughfare, Fourth avenue. This is a view taken in front of Louisville's largest hotel, the Brown at Fourth and Broadway. Of the city's 330,000 population, 230,000 were made homeless by the Ohio river flood.

Wealth was a honey that kept attracting buzzing relatives of Suliman Kajmakovitch of Travnik, Bosnia. He craved solitude. In order to gain it he gave his fortunes and possessions to the poor and went to live in a humble dwelling on the outskirts of the town. But now he receives more visits than ever, for the poor insist on coming and telling him how generous he was.

REALTY TRANSFERS

Matti Kalajainen to John H. Kalajainen, Shenango township, $1.

County Controller Frank W. Hill has completed his annual statement of the financial condition of the county and in a short time it will be ready for publication. This year Mr. Hill has a new budget form which shows receipts and expenditures in a fashion that can be understood more easily. In previous years the annual statement has been a mass of figures that didn't seem to jell. This year it is different.

You may be interested to know that in 1936 there was spent in the county $902,915.05 of your money. The large part of it was from taxes, a small portion of it came from returns from the state. To put the expenditures on a personal basis the county spent a trifle over $9 for each man, woman and child last year. This figure includes general expenditures and poor fund expenditures. In the general fund $573,122.99 was spent, in the poor fund $329,792.66.

An encouraging factor in tax collections was the fact that the amounts turned over to the delinquent collector were smaller than in 1935. For 1936 the delinquent collectors got $104,788.11, general fund; $64,450.46 in the poor fund, and $1530.41 in the four mill personal property tax to collect. Much of this will be paid, it is expected. The taxes outstanding for 1936 are $170,759.00.

Now for the breakdown of the totals. It was your money that was spent and you have a right to know where it went. For the office of the county commissioners and county solicitor, $23,228.28 was spent. For upkeep of the court house, firemen, janitors, repairs, light, heat, water and electricity, $14,261.46.

For elections and registrations there was spent $21,261.94. For tax assessments, $16,832.81 was spent and more of this figure anon. The treasurer's office cost $18,994.10. The controller's office $7065.23.

The Register of Wills and the Recorder of Deeds office cost the county $11,605.22. In addition the register and recorder received fees from the state not shown in the county figures. The sheriff's office cost $12,984.04 and the jail $8851.75.

The coroner's office cost $2018.10 which includes jury fees, inquests, burials and post mortems. The prothonotary and clerk of court's office cost $13,368.33. The district attorney's office including the county detective's expense was $9312.09. The courts, that is the cost of juries, jury commissioners, witnesses, tipstaves, and sundry other expenses was $29,094.26. This does not include judges' salaries which are paid by the state.

Roads and bridges shows an expense of $1021.94, but to this should be added $14,955.64 for reconstruction of bridges. The administration of the poor board cost $10,398.38. The county home cost $20,572.69. For maintenance in hospitals, most of the cost for insane hospitals, $43,680.80. Home relief cost $104,682.61. Interest on highway bonds cost $22,877.50. Land damages for highways amounted to $8519.24.

The county's share of the gasoline fund from the state amounted to $66,167.90 and to this can be added $44,829.76 which was on hand. It all adds up to a tidy sum of money in any language. The report in full, which will show the detail of the expenses will be printed shortly and as a taxpayer you owe yourself an hour's study of it.

Through his counsel, Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has filed an answer to the petition of the county commissioners asking that a per diem allowance be made for the feeding of prisoners in the county jail. The petition was an answer to the order of court which authorized the commissioners to pay a meat bill which has accumulated for a year. The probabilities are that the court will now set a hearing date and hear the question.

ENROLLMENT INCREASES

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 28.—Resident enrollment at the Pennsylvania State college has increased nearly 45 per cent in the past decade. There were 3927 students ten years ago. There are now 5684.

Ask Validity Cards Be Returned Soon

Job Office Here, Expecting Building Trades Spurt, Makes Preparations

"Return the validity cards at once" was the message the Federal-State Employment office in the Johnson building sent out today to hundreds of county residents who have job applications in its files.

The office is making a regular check of its files to determine a true picture of the employment situation. When "validity cards" fail to come back, the office within a short time drops the name of the person to whom it was mailed.

"We're looking forward to a spurt in the building trades this spring," commented Archie Gordon, district supervisor, "and we want to know what workmen will be available when calls come."

If he can answer a letter by telling you things you already know and evading your questions, he is probably a statesman.

HARLANSBURG

W. W. G. MEETING

Members of the World Wide Guild gathered at the home of Mrs. Ruth Croyle on Thursday evening for their regular monthly meeting.

Rev. Leonard Mathewson had charge of the devotionals and gave a talk on "Our Responsibility In Giving". The president, Helen Macom, conducted the business meeting. A letter to Miss Sellon of China was read by Mrs. Mabel Kneram and different members contributed interesting items. Mrs. Mildred Brenneman read an interesting letter from Rankin Christian Center to the Guild. Meeting closed by all repeating the pledge.

Tempting refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Esther Eakin to 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kneram, daughter Virginia, with her children of New Castle, were guests of their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Kneram, Friday.

Mrs. Francis Boak, one of the grade teachers in the Scott township consolidated school was absent Monday on account of illness. Mrs. John Turner substituted for her.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Eakin and daughter Lorain of Hillsville were week-end guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eakin. Miss Lorain remained for a short visit.

Miss Helen Hutcheson was detained by Wolf creek overflowing its banks across the road Monday morning but arrived in time for her teaching and the relief of worried pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. David Harlan of New Castle visited his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Harlan, Saturday evening, and Archie McCracken of Rock Springs was a Tuesday guest in the same home.

The Unity Baptist Missionary society will hold an all day meeting at the piano of Mrs. Bertha Eakin, on Thursday. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Lena Mathewson.

Gehrig Will Sign Contract

'Galluping Lou' Will Probably Get Around $35,000 For Season Of 1937

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—At approximately 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon first baseman Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees is expected to make an announcement revealing that, after a week of dickering, he has signed his 1937 contract and gone philanthropic to the extent of about $15,000.

With the press gathered about him by special invitation in one of the city's better hostelries, presumably he will say that he is all set for his 13th full season as a Yankee, and the Yankee officials are expected to be on the premise to approve it.

Will Get $35,000

Gehrig remains "non-committal" on his contract, except to confess that he received it, but some one had figured out that he wouldn't be pitching a cocktail party to announce that he and the Yankees couldn't get together, and to seek advice on the proper steps to take.

The conclusion is that he has come to terms with scarcely a struggle, will get about a $4,000 raise to $35,000 and therefore will fall about $15,000 short of what he could get by getting tough.

He will remain the highest-salaried player currently in the game and by a wider margin than ever before, but he may be missing his best chance to make it more. Any one of a number of things, including a broken leg, can happen to him next season when he will seek to stretch his iron man streak to beyond 1,900 games. Also, he may fall off in hitting and relinquish home run leadership.

Louis-Pastor Fight Friday Has 'Appeal'

Staid New York Is Falling For This One Like Ton Of Bricks

MANY PLACING BETS ON PASTOR

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 28—After meditating upon everything very gravely, I am unable as yet to fully comprehend just what may be taking place around here and, in all modesty I ma y say that I can be relied upon to remain equally uninformed until somebody gets hit on the nostril tomorrow night. But one point seems to be quite clear; this town either is full of smart guys or the smart guys are full of vanilla prosphate.

They're so smart, in fact, that they've even taken what started out to be a ten cent prize fight between Joe Louis, the big-bop man, and Bob Pastor, the redoubtable collegian, and run it into an altercation. They've bet it all the way down from 12-1 to 3-1, just like it was an investment, and it is painful to note that even the press boys aren't immune.

Pastor Places Bets

They're taking the odds on Pastor with tens and twenties and Pastor not to be found remiss in the proprieties, is said to have taken $1,000 for himself at 7-1 and $200 against $2,500 that he wins by a knockout. Only a cad at heart, of course would suggest that these may be laundry or cuff bets and, besides, the young man holds a ticket, signed by Frank Erickson, who runs the biggest book in town. But, as I say, a boor might think that Mr. Erickson likes to have his prank.

I also say that it seems possible everybody has misunderstood Manager Johnston, who likely as not set out to turn on a little legitimate heat on behalf of Promotoer Johnston, and now finds himself with something hotter than a baked Idaho potato. Anyhow, they now think the odds will go as low as 2-1 and the gate as high as $100,000,which most assuredly is doing all right with a party who is as open as a manhole and as wide as the Lincoln highway.

Pastor Confident

I'm not quite sure whether he's any wider than that with his mouth since in order to reach a conclusion it's probable that soundings would first have to be taken. So far, the only soundings around here have been given. Our young man from the campus has knocked Louis stiffer than a length of linoleum with his oratory and only this morning, he caused to be issued, through promoter-manager Johnston, a fresh outburst, bordering this time on villification.

It was something well calculated to take the curl out of Louis hair and put it in his toes, if it was allowed to see the light of morning—which it wasn't.

Anyhow, it all shows what can be done with a young man who has been muddling around with such as Eddie Simms, Steve Dudas and a few more. He's young and on his way up, whereas the rest of Louis' victims were either finished or fervently wished to be.

Krags High In Nonpariel Shoot

The Krags with 553 were high in the semi-weekly inter-club shoot of the Nonpariel club held at the Nonpariel range Tuesday night. The Marlins were second and the Winchesters finished third.

The members will meet again tonight for a shoot at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced by Karl Rohrer.

The results of the inter-club match:

Krags — Curtis, captain, 191; Adams, 186; Lindsey, 176; Dess, 161. Total, 553.

Marlins—Eckles, captain, 192; Phipps, 163; Cifra, 189. Total, 544.

Winchesters—Davis, captain, 186; Grodecour, 180; Essinger, 172; French, 154. Total, 538.

Savages—Rohrer, captain, 177; Gillespie, 177; Davies, 183. Total, 537.

Remingtons — Barber, captain, 189; Shaw, 172; Jinks, 173; Gardner, 154, Untch, 145. Total, 534.

Mrs. Nolan Enjoys Golfing In South

Writes To News That She Is Having Fine Time Enjoying Game In Florida

Word has been received by friends at The News from Mrs. Frieda Nolan, stating that she is enjoying an ambition that she has cherished for some time—that of playing golf in the sunny south during the winter season. She expects to spend several weeks at Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Nolan was accompanied to Florida by Mrs. Clara Young and Mrs. Callie Riddle, and at the time she wrote, was unaware of the tragedy which has since overtaken them, as the letter was mailed on Sunday.

New Brighton Here Saturday

Section Three Teams Are Ready To Start Final Round Of Play

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" basketball team, minus Domenick "Jap" Covelli, awaits the invasion Saturday night of the New Brighton High quintet for the start of the final round of play in Section Three. The Reserves of both schools will play the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

The game was originally set for Friday night, but owing to commencement here Friday night it was moved to Saturday night. The New Brighton High officials readily agreed to this change.

Mus Keep Going

New Castle High must keep on winning to remain in the section three race and somebody is going to have to knock the frosting off if this Aliquippa cake. Of course, at the time being this looks like a too healthy assignment for any of the sectional teams, but one can never tell, can one?

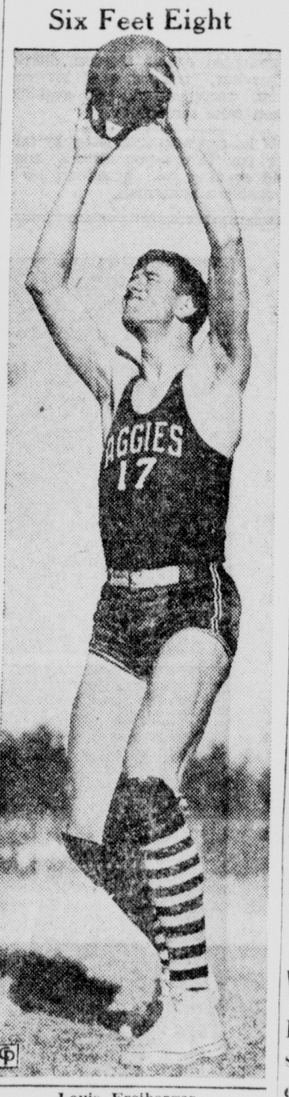

Friday night the "Quippians" will be called upon to meet the Ellwood City high team at the Aliquippa floor. The Ellwoods lost to the "Quips" at the Ellwood City floor in the first game of the league season, but have improved quite a lot since that time and may upset the Lippe Apple-cart.

The other sectional battle for Friday night will be Ambridge at Beaver Falls.

It is expected that either "Horse" Ryglinski or Paulie Small will get the guard job left vacant by the brilliant little Dommie Covelli, Ryginski's size may give him the edge over the hard-fighting Small, but the latter has the spirit that wins games.

The doos Saturday night will open at 6:30 o'clock. The first game will start at 7 o'clock. The prices will be same as usual 15, 35 and 50.

Duquesne hopes to snap out of the defeat column tonight when they play St. Bonaventure at Buffalo. . . . Allegheny county's delegation in the assembly is split on the question of legalizing horse racing in Pennsylvania. . . . Paul Waner will play A. R. Trumbo, Ottawa, at Coral Gables today in the 18-hole final of the Miami-Biltmore left-handers golf tourney. Waner won last year. Both he and Trumbo reached the finals yesterday.

Jess Willard's son, Jess, Jr., 22, a student at Washington State college, who is 6 feet 1 inch tall, and weighs 200 pounds, is wearing boxing gloves at school these days. He boxes daily with a varsity heavyweight. As yet it is not known if he will go in for boxing. He is fast, punches good and looks good, according to the college boxing coach, Ide Deeter. So far Jess has not tried out for a place on the boxing team.

Ken Overlin, a wild-swinging jumping-jack from Richmond, Va., upset fistic dope last night when he captured a 10-round decision from Fred Apostoli, belting middleweight of San Francisco, at New York City. It was a furious fight before three thousand fans and although he lost the Californian made a host of new friends with fans. The decision was split, the judges having divided and the verdict of the referee, going to Overlin. Meanwhile at Pompton Lakes, where Joe Louis is training for Bob Pastor, who he fights tomorrow night at New York, a training partner put Joe down for an instant with a sock to the jaw. The sparring partner who upset the Detroit bomber was Edie Malcom. Malcom and other members of the colored boy's retinue said Joe slipped and fell. However, others claim Eddie hit joe on the chin. It was the first time the colored boy was on the floor since the night Max Schmeling introduced Louis to the resin covered canvas.

Pittsburgh Pirates had a worry on their hands today, Gus Suhr, the first baseman, having rejected a 1937 contract. However, Gus believes that the Pirates' management and he will be able to get together, the first baseman saying at San Francisco: "I know everything will turn out right. They've always treated me fine."

Joe Alois of Pittsburgh scored a seven-round knockout over Joe Melenky of Cleveland at Fairmont, W. Va. The house was crowded—something unique for professional boxing. Alois dihplayed hitting ability and his punches were timed nicely. Mickey Develin, Sprindale beat Herb Oldaker, Fairmont, in a semi-final. Mickey fought as an amateur in this city.

New Castle High "Rasslers" Lose

The New Castle high school wrestling team went to Grove City high last night and dropped ten matches. This was the first interscholastic meet for the locals and they handled themselves in creditable manner. The team was under the direction of Bill Klee. The Grove City high boys are highly regarded in "rassling circles."

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 28.—Max Baer, the former heavyweight champion, and his manager, Ancil Hoffman, were withou a home today.

Their palatial country place near here was swept by fire last night. Damage was estimated at $40,000.

Baer and Hoffman and their wives were entertaining several guests when the fire broke out. They escaped uninjured.

Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Bessemer Faculty Trounces Unions

Bessemer high school faculty basketball team outwinded the Union faculty yesterday afternoon in a tepid floor struggle at the Union court. The score of the game was 31 to 17 in baskets and about 50-50 on liniment bottles and headache tablets.

King and Capezutto made life miserable for the Union teachers with 24 of the points between them, while Coach J. K. Fredericks kicked in with three points. Coach Davey Boyd of the Unions, was the high-point getter with four buckets for eight points. Eve was good with four points. The Unions are reported to have outweighed the Bessemers by at least 100 pounds, so it wasn't a total loss for the Townshipers.

The summary:

Two Big Games At "Y" Friday

The feature basketball attractions will be played at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday night it was announced today. The first game will start at 8 o'clock and will find the Carnegie-Illinois team of the House-Indus league opposed to the fast West Middlesex Merchants.

The second game will send the Johnson-Bronze team into action with the St. Joseph's of Sharon. Both of these games will no doubt attract a lot of attention from the fans.

SAKS RESERVES TOP OAK, 40-20

Saks Reserves registered another victory, this time defeating the Oak A. C. by a 40-20 count.

Joe Cooper and Gabby DeCaprio were outstanding for the winners while Ross was the best bet for the losers. Saturday, Saks are scheduled to oppose the K. Pulaski Reserves at Senor high floor. Next week the Reserves travel to Farrell.

Bessemer High Leads Section

Union High In Second Place, Wampum Third, In Torrid Section 21 Conflict

According to figures published today on the Section 21 race, the Bessemer high team holds the top of the ladder with five victories and one defeat, while the Union high team trails close with five victories and two upsets. Wampum high pulls up in third position, a game behind Union.

Union Has Hopes.

Union high has the tough Mt. Jackson high team as the opponent Friday night at the Union floor. The Jacksons topped the Unionites out at the Jackson floor and the blue and whites are looking for their revenge. Coach Davey Boyd has the Unions fighting mad for this important setto.

East Brook high will play at Bessemer on Friday night and there is a possibility that the Bessemers will be so confident of this one that they may muff it to the Emerick coached machine from the confines of East Brook.

Shenango high goes to Wampum and the dope bucket may get another kicking around here. The Wampums should take it by a close margin, but stranger things have happened and Shenango is coming along nicely.

Tough Race.

It's quite evident that this is going to be a three-team race right down to the final quarter of the last game of the year to decide the championship of the section. There are three or four very fine teams in the county this season.

Standing of Section 21.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Into the changing sports picture march a number of youngsters, still in their teens, flinging a serious challenge to their elders . . . the one who will be heard about most is Bob Feller, Iowa striker-outer, who will pitch for the Indians and $10,000 this year.

But Feller is only one of a young army coming along. The Pacific coast soon will be sending a 14-year-old star to the big tennis matches . . . she is Pat Canning of Alameda, Cal., winner of just about every title that can be won along the Pacific . . . experts who have watched her, see in the girl another Helen Wills Moody, and though that's saying a lot, Pat gives plenty of promise in a game that needs new blood.

It is doubtful whether the golfing year will bring forth another "boy wizard", at least not another Lawson Little . . . easterners are predicting great things for Frank Strafaci, New York schoolboy . . . by the way, what has happened to Little since he turned pro . . . we've seen his name in a score of tournaments, but he never has been very far up among the leaders . . . has the lad retired . . . or is medal play not his game?

Miss Berg On The Fairways

In women's golf, a freckled kid named Patty Berg, from Minneapolis, gives promise of becoming the phenomenon of 1937 . . . Glenna Collett Vare, making a vigorous comeback fight this year, says she expects her hardest opposition from Miss Berg and Maureen Orcutt Crews . . . Glenna says that Patty is potentially the finest girl golfer this country ever had . . . which is a mouthful for Glenna, who was pretty good herself—and still is.

This man's town has a young fellow who jumps, Arthur Byrnes, freshman at Manhattan college, who threatens to steal the act from Cornelius Johnson and other ebony leapers . . . Art goes over the bar a la scissors, after the fashion of George Spitz, who could go 6 feet 8 inches . . . many who believe the scissors, as opposed to the Pacific roll, or Texas roll, is true high jumping form, think Byrnes will prove their case . . . already Art is doing better than 6 feet 4 inches, just a half foot short of the goal he has set for himself, 6 feet 10, and a new record . . . Spitz, by the way, now retired, helped to teach Byrnes the scissors art.

Off The Diving Board

Looking over the field of kids that blond wig of little Mary Hoerger, Florida's diving ace, flashes into view . . . Mary promises to become the successor of Dorothy Poynton Hill, Georgia Coleman anad other gals who throw their bodies through the air from platforms and diving boards.

Young men a little farther along than these tots, but still a long way from the jowls stage, give great hope in baseball and boxing . . . I am thinking of Joe Di Maggio and Joe Louis . . . Unless something serious happens to bar their paths, Di Maggio will become one of the great ball players of our day, and Joe Louis is going to be around for a long, long time as a blaster.

WILL DEFEND CUP

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Wake up my boy it's time for final exams . . . that is the wording you hear at the colleges this week, it's time to go to class and tell the professor what he has told you for the last three months . . . if you don't, then you have to listen to it all over again . . . he says think for yourself, but if you do, the chances you take are some times fatal . . . it's better to think as he does . . . he might be able to understand you better.

* * *

Some of the college group are home . . . haven't seen many but I suppose they are resting after the hard old grind of craming . . . Let me tell you folks, that IS work, all you college students will agree I'm sure . . . what do you say to this Ernie Stitzinger, you are a freshman . . . maybe you are one of the lucky ones and escaped from the demon cram, let's hope so . . . welcome home.

* * *

It seems that the south is suffering with the heat . . . had a letter from my big boss and he said he was sitting in front of two windows with his shirt off writing the letter . . . when a man becomes a success he should have the advantage of summer weather in the winter.

* * *

Friday night is sure going to be a busy one . . . first we have graduation, then you lucky bums, you have a choice of two things, the President's ball at the Cathedral (you should all buy a ticket and attend) or a magic show over in the First Christian church, on the diamond . . . of course you can't go every place but variety is the spice of life.

* * *

If you wish to make your home charming, comfortable, homey . . . there's one inexpensive way to do it. In these columns on this page you'll find the best furniture bargains in town. Get more comfort this easy way.

IT PAYS TO USE THE WANT-ADS.

Sharp Spurt In Steels Sends Market Along Recovery Road Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—A sharp spurt in steels spurred further recovery in the stock market today, although the speculative picture continued clouded by the motor strike and the increasing damages from floods.

The surprisingly bullish U. S. Steel report for 1936 and expectations of an equally good statement by Bethlehem after the close today motivated heavy buying in steels sending the ticker 2 minutes behind.

U. S. Steel spurted to 90½ for a net gain of 2 points. Bethlehem, likewise jumped 2 points while Republic and Youngstown Sheet & Tube advanced nearly as much.

Large blocks of stock were spread over the tape in the initial bulge, running to as much as 12,000 shares of Superior Oil with a number of 5,000 share orders appearing. Late in the first hour a sale of 12,600 Commonwealth & Southern was made.

In motor shares, Chrysler jumped close to 2 points and Nash a point to another new high. General Motors' gain was limited to a small fraction.

Boeing Airplane spurted about 2 points. Phillips Petroleum and Superior were at new tops in oils.

Rails and coppers were inclined to lag. Utilities and amusements were slightly higher.

Bonds recovered with stocks. Grains inclined to lower levels, but cotton spurted 50 cents bale.

Mechanics Take Lead At Shelby In Floor League

Record Crowd Sees Mechanics Trim Office, 49 To 33, In Important Tilt Wednesday

COLD DRAW NOSES OUT FINISHING

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 28.—Hundreds were turned away at the Shelby auditorium Wednesday evening as the place was filled to capacity when the Mechanical and Office met in the second game of the evening to determine the lead in the Ellwood City Industrial Basketball league.

They were awed as they witnessed an exhibition of uncanny shooting on the part of the Mechanicals who trounced their opponents 49-33 to take undisputed possession of first place in the league. Only one game stands between them and the first half championship. They are scheduled to clash with Frisco on Saturday night.

Great Shooting

Yesterday was the Mechanicals' "on day." Nothing short of a cyclone could have stopped the rain of field goals from every angle of the court. They had just to throw the sphere in the general direction of the basket to score. One thing that has been characteristic of the youthful Mechanical team is that the tougher the opposition the better brand of basketball they play. They have played poorly against weaker teams but look like a million dollars against an opponent of equal or better ability. They are undefeated to date.

The Mechanicals took command of the situation immediately. Using a fast breaking and moving diversified offense, they jumped to a 14-3 lead in the opening stanza. Fast and accurate passing featured. The Office came to life in the second period and in a hard fight, gained a 12-11 edge to make the score 25-15 at half-time in favor of the Mechanics. Office gained another point in the ensuing period when the score was 34-25 for the Mechanics. Early in this period Captain Alex Robuck was taken out of the game via the four personal foul route, after leading the Mechanical attack in the first half by accounting for nine points. His passing and floor work was an important factor in the Mechanical offense. In the final chapter the Mechanicals began to rain in the field goals again from all angles, scoring 15 points to the Office 8, making the final score 49-33.

The whole Mechanical team figured in the attack with Johnson, Lutz, Robuck, and Gottuso having a big day. The former caged six field goals and the second got five and one foul. The scoring honors went to Tomei of the Office, who got five field goals and three fouls for a total of 13 points.

Sudden Rally

In the first game the Cold Draw nosed out the defending champions Finishing 41-38 in a close and hard fought game. The Finishing held a thin edge until the last two minutes when their opponents overtook them and nosed them out. The score was deadlocked at 12 all in the first quarter, 21-20 for Finishing at the half, 33-32 for them in the third quarter, to have the Cold Draw step out in the final chapter and win 41-38. Justine, Ferucci, and Lamenza were outstanding for the victors, with Latiano, Ursu, Freidhoff, Barnes, and Rossman playing a good game for the losers.

There was a fine entertainment between the games and a dance after.

Policeman's Ball To Be Held Here On February 9

Committees Appointed For Big Event To Be Held At Elks' Ballroom Soon.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 28—For the first time since 1929, the Ellwood City Police Department will hold a Policeman's Ball. The date has been set for Tuesday, February 9 at the Elk's Ballroom on Crescent avenue. Arrangements are being made to make this one of the most elaborate and conspicuous events of the season.

Lieut. E. R. Hartman is general chairman of the affair and head of the finance committee. Other officers and committees are as follows: acting treasurer, Desk Sgt. Louis Conway; secretary, Desk Sgt. Darwin Braden; manufacturing solicitation committee, Patrolman Clark Ricer and C. J. Clarkt; merchants committee, Chief of Police W. C. Morrison, Patrolman James Hayes, Frank Straw and Fred Henderson.

Those desiring tickets just stop an officer. The affair is being held for the benefit of the Police Equipment fund.

House Warming For Joe Latianos' Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Latiano were delightfully surprised last evening when a group of 25 friends asembled in their new home at 516½ Crescent avenue to give them a house warming.

Mrs. Leonard Maxwell and Mrs. Jean Niro acted as hostesses on the occasion. The evening hours were whiled away in playing bridge and the game Easy Money. Prizes for the former went to Mrs. James Casey and Mrs. George Fosnought. A luncheon was served later by the hostesses with the aid of Mrs. Howard Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Latiano were the recipients of a number of lovely and useful gifts at this time.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 28—Discharged Wednesday: Mrs. Charles Gerwig and son of Zelienople, Mrs. Russell Mohr, and daughter of Wampum, Mrs. Herbert Smiley and daughter, of Smiley street, James Mittica of Glen avenue.

Admitted: Mrs. Garie Newton, of Wampum avenue.

Local W. B. A. Lodge Holds Initiation

Pioneer Members Are Special Guests at Interesting Meeting Wednesday.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 28.—Candidates were initiated at the regular meeting of the local W. B. A. lodge last night in the First National Bank building. There was a fine turnout present. The initiation was done by the guards. Special guests on the occasion were the Pioneer members.

Three Pioneer pins were presented at the meeting last night. Past President Mrs. Elizabeth Mackey was surprised at this time when she was presented with a beautiful purse engraved with her initials, along with a bracelet and large pin. This was in appreciation of her services as president of the lodge for the past two years.

At its business meeting the lodge planned to hold a 500 and bingo party for the benefit of flood relief, next Wednesday, Feb. 3. Bingo was enjoyed later with prizes going to Mrs. Mackey, Mrs. Jesse Means, and Dorothy Tanner. Refreshments were served later by Mrs. Bessie Smith and her committee. The lodge will meet again on Feb. 10.

Z. E. C. Members Have Three Guests

ELLWOOD CITY, Ja. 28.—Mrs. T. H. Terlinden, Jr., welcomed members of the Z. E. C. club at her home at Knox last evening in a pleasing manner for the bi-weekly meeting with Mrs. Daniel Stamm, Mrs. Earl Schink and Mrs. Paul Thornhill as special guests.

Two tables of 500 whiled away the hours and at the conclusion of play prizes went to Mrs. Joseph Ligo and Mrs. Schink for high and second high scores. A delectable repast was served by Mrs. Terlinden.

Mrs. Edward Butler invited the group to meet at her home in Sixth street for the next meeting with the exact date to be later determined.

Local Red Cross Chapter Nearly Has $500 In Fund

Quota Of County Increased To $9,000; Ellwood Hopes To Raise $1,500

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 28.—Secretary Denny Schill of the local Chamber of Commerce and head of the American Red Cross chapter here announced this morning that a total of $455.61 has been raised here to date for the flood relief program. This is more than the original quota for Ellwood.

The quota for Lawrence county was $1,800 but yesterday it was increased to $9,000 due to the continued havoc created by flood in the Ohio River Valley and the Mississippi Valley floods the quotas all over the nation were increased. Secretary Schill announced today that the aim here is $1,500 or more.

The money has been coming in here from the schools, civic and fraternal organizations, churches, merchants and individuals who have donated graciously to the fund in this time of great need.

Anyone having contributions can leave them at the Chamber of Commerce, City building, or any downtown store. The checks are to be made payable to the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Edith Morgan of Harrisburg, Pa., is visiting at the home of relatives in this city.

Local Women Plan World Day Of Prayer

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Robert E. Bell of North Sewickley was elected president of the local World Day of Prayer organization at an executive meeting held on Wednesday afternoon in the First Methodist church with representatives of all the local and rural churches in attendance.

Other officers to serve for the year 1938 were: Miss Bessie Runyan, vice president; Mrs. Thomas B. Magee, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Bessie Guldbransen, assistant secretary.

The meeting will be held on Friday, February 12, in the First Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock. The exact program has not been determined but the officers expect to have a missionary as the speaker.

In the evening at 8 o'clock the young women's organizations of the various churches will hold a separate service. Mrs. David Jones, Jr., is president of the young women's organization.

Red Cross Benefit Card Party Success

V. F. W. Auxiliary Card Party Realizes Nice Sum For Fund On Flood Relief.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 28.—The American Red Cross benefit card party sponsored by the local V. F. W. auxiliary in their lodge rooms on Fourth street last night for the benefit of flood sufferers, was a fine success.

Thirteen tables of bridge and 500 were in play. At the conclusion of the bridge series started in October, Mrs. Margaret Bauder won the prize for the high series score and also for last night. Mrs. Nick Bauer received the second award. The 500 series prize was won by Mrs. Thelma Yoho and for last night by Mrs. Effie Dunkle and Harry Harper. The door prize was won by Mrs. Margaret Mook.

First Presbyterian Missionary Society Meets Wednesday

Capsule Sister Dinner Features Regular Meeting Here Yesterday Afternoon.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 28.—Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church held a Capsule Sister dinner Wednesday afternoon in the church rooms, at which time the sisters for the year were disclosed and recognized.

A Valentine Day color scheme was used for the table appointments which included candles, flowers, and hearts. Mrs. C. N. Moore of New Castle and formerly of Zelienople, Mrs. William Mitchell and Mrs. Butler were special guests on the occasion. Mrs. Mitchell favored with a pleasing vocal solo at this time.

After dinner a fine program was carried out with Mrs. A. M. Stevenson as the leader. There were devotions, songs, prayers, and at the close Mrs. Moore delivered an inspirational and spiritual missionary talk. Those present considered it a privilege to be in the audience. A short business meeting was then held in charge of Mrs. W. A. Kerr.

The hostesses for the occasion were the Mesdames O. E. Bartel, Carrie Aiken, C. E. Zeigler, Minnie Simpson, and Miss Sarah McCune. The society will meet again on the fourth Wednesday of February.

PUPILS PRESENT FINE PROGRAM

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 28.—Piano pupils of Miriam Johnson presented a program at her home on Spring avenue on Wednesday evening.

Those participating were: Jody Bill Humphrey, Armine Paul, Mary Lee Balsch, Beverly Anne Balsch, Jo Anne Nelson, Betty Luther, Robert Mackasek, Betty Scheidemantle, Paul Hough, Betsy Mason, Anne Hough, Elizabeth Owen and Ida Wiley.

Parents of the students were guests on the occasion.

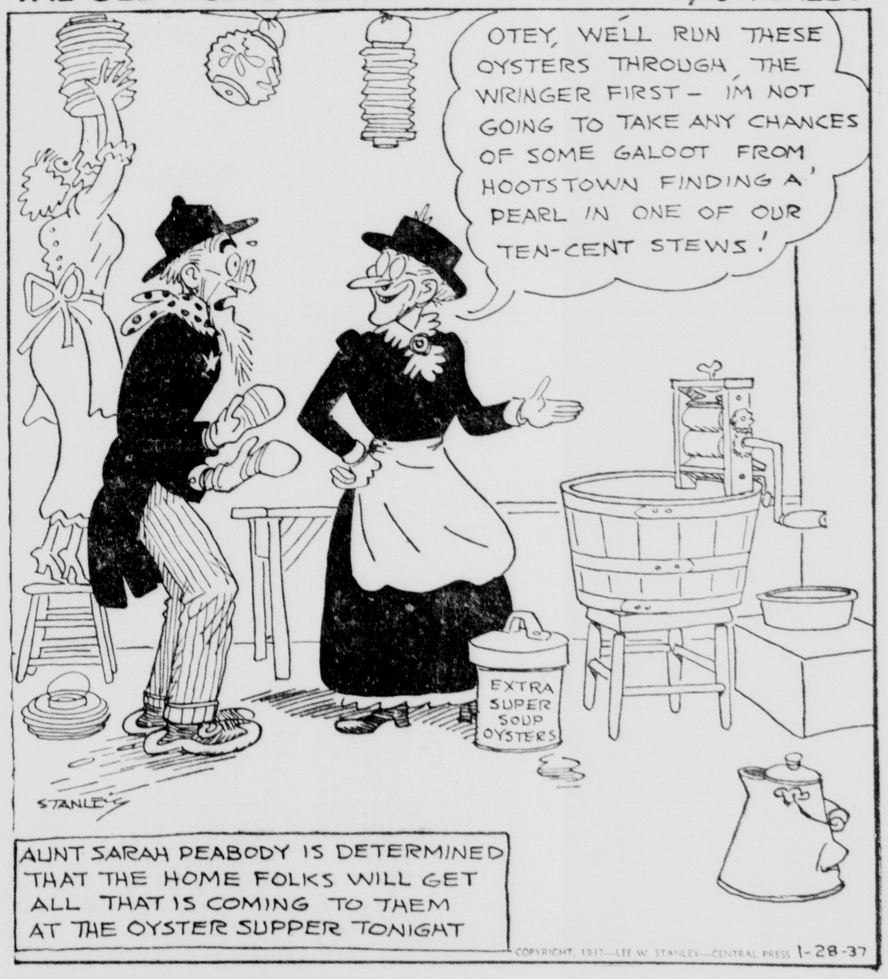

Even tyrants are useful. People don't appreciate liberty unless it gets scarce now and then.

Rescuers Carry Flood Victims to Safety

Injured victims of the flood at Jeffersonville, Ind., are shown being carried in a solemn procession to a rescue train, which took them to high ground and warmth. Jeffersonville, opposite Louisville, Ky., was terribly hard hit by the flood. All but 750 of the population of the city have been evacuated.

Swank Is Taken Off Apartments

In Spite Of Caution, Shady Tenants Ruin Reputations Of Costly Apartments

SPEAKERS HAVE ODD MANNERISMS

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Three costly apartment houses in as many exclusive areas awoke to find their names in thick headlines this winter. Despite the great caution in tenancy, they were harboring with a dress suit flair the come-into-my-parlor motif of the bagnio.

O. O. McIntyre

The gentlemen who called were limousine larrikens sporting top hats and the ladies who exited with them at varying hours were sabled as though they might be faring forth for opera. Or a late drop-in at one of the satin-lined night clubs.

One place had been operating for nearly a year without suspicion when the patrol wagon backed up and trundled away its fashionably dressed load. The damage to property values in such scandalous exigencies cannot be estimated. Many tenants take flight the next day.

It requires months for prospective tenants to forget a call-house raid and there are instances where there follows an exodus along the entire block. On that seasoned theory no doubt that a rotting speck will eventually destroy the whole barrel of apples.

Gene Sarazen has joined the rapidly growing gentleman farmer colony in near-by Connecticut. His purchase was a 165-acre farm stocked with 50 head of cattle, a flock of sheep and a chicken hatchery. Sarazen is not giving up golfing as yet—but he is getting a grip on the hoe, just in case his swing with the mashie begins to lose cunning. Few have made so much jack having a lot of fun as he.

Another addition to the Connecticut colony is the financier Matt Brush. He will live on an enormous estate with an expansive, seven-acre sweep of water front. Low taxes are bringing thousands to the Nutmeg State. Real estate is booming.

The tenement block of West 46th street between 9th and 10th avenues has taken on the serrated look of a suddenly arisen boom mining town out west. A railroad tunnel is cutting under the block and day and night picks and shovels swing. All the houses are approached on a plank sidewalk and up wooden steps, old Cripple Creek style. It is a flare of light and din and how they sleep is a mystery. But as one denizen said: "We get used to everything in the tenements."

An Ohio Valley correspondent writes me that the torch singer Ramona with the Whiteman orchestra is a product of Ashland, Ky. and her maiden name was Ramona Myers. She was married some years ago to an easterner named Davies. Ramona's mother for several seasons conducted a swanky road house in the Kentucky section, and there Ramona got her start as a singer.

The ex-King Edward was noted as a necktie tugger. In public appearance he continually tugs at his cravat. Ex-mayor Jimmy Walker, in his public speeches was forever during pauses tugging at an ear lobe. Indeed, almost every person under high pressure indulges some nervous mannerism as an emotional escape valve President Roosevelt has flashes of blinking. Will Rogers was always flirting back that unruly forelock. Mayor LaGuardia likes to hop from one chair to another during conferences. David Warfield, while waiting in the wings would crack his knuckles and Col. Lindberg rubs his thumbs across finger ends.

Thingumbobs: Willa Cather thinks Flaubert the most graphic writer... Gus Hill, first of the Indian club swingers at 78 had played 26 benefits last year....The shyest of the lyricists is George Gershwin's brother Ira....Jack Whiting has become one of London's most popular matinee idols....George Jean Nathan's briefest stay at a first night this season was ten minutes.

Dean Cornwell is finishing murals depicting the life of Sir Walter Raleigh for a new dining room bearing that name at the Warwick hotel. As part of the decoration there will be a running frieze composed of 40 heraldic shields. But instead of conventional English is doing shields of 40 contemporary men—embodying symbols of each man's vocation and personal background. Among those selected are Somerset, Maugham, Bugs Baer, Robert Ripley, Percy Crosby and a sneak-bill, chitty-faced columnist whose first name is considered odd.

AROUND CITY HALL

It was decidely gratifying to learn yesterday that the WPA and city officials has decided upon concerted action to prevent possible sickness here as a result of water in different sections of the city. No sooner had officials of the two bodies convened and the problems been presented until the WPA officials agreed to provide the city with sufficient trucks and employes to stage a clean-up as quickly as the water subsides. It is hoped that in not only this but other problems that affect the city and WPA that the two bodies will agree because, after all, the officials of both bodies are vitally interested in the welfare and progress of the city.

A young miss, 15 years old to be exact, believing that her uncle and aunt, who raised her from infancy, were under too big a financial handicap to longer keep her decided to leave her home, in a nearby city, and late Tuesday night arrived via a railroad in the Seventh ward. A railroad man and policeman noticed the girl and suspecting her to be a "runaway" the policeman, David Nelson took her into custody. She was not placed in a cell. Instead she was taken to the home of Police Matron Minnie McKibben. At first the girl told an untrue story, but after the alert matron had closely questioned the girl, the truth came out. Instead of sending her to the city detention home, Mrs. McKibben kept the young girl in her own home and authorities here sent the girl home Wednesday morning. The identity of the girl, her residence and the name of her uncle and aunt were kept secret. Before she departed the police matron pointed out the dangers of a young girl leaving home, roaming streets late at night and questioning strangers for directions. After learning of the pitfalls that a girl may fall into, the young miss was apparently happy to have been detained and treated so kindly. No doubt the girl now is glad she was returned home.

Approximately 75 automobile accidents have occurred so far this month. It is unlikely the toll will be as large as December, 1936, when 137 accidents occurred, the largest number for any one month of last year. Automobile collisions this month have been kept down by close supervision, operation of lights and also due to the fact that not so many motor cars are being driven, due to lack of license. During 1936, there were 1,108 accidents which was less than four a day in a city of 50,000 people.

Members of the police department collected a few afternoons ago and staged a surprise on the police department clerk, Miss Marjorie Davies. The young miss who has been record-keeper at the police station for a year or more, is to soon leave the department. To be frank, she's going to join the Matrimonial league and the fortunate chap is Emerson Davies, of this city, who now is stationed for a New Castle industry in Cleveland. The police presented her with a set of siverware as a wedding present. And the wedding? Saturday. It is not yet known whether or not a successor to Miss Davies will be named. This depends upon the decision of Mayor Charles E. McGrath.

Harbor Road Now Open To Traffic

Shenango Recedes and Highway Traffic Is Resumed This Morning.

Receding water left many holes and a very rough surface on the road leading from the Harbor to the New Wilmington road. The road was opened for traffic this morning, having been blocked by several foot of water for the past week from the Shenango river.

According to a watchman at the Harbor road, last night, the water all receded in about three hours. The cold, however, left a thin coating of ice, over which the highway department spread ashes this morning to make the road passable.

It would have been possible to pass over the road last evening, but the watchmen were instructed not to let anyone pass over this strip until daylight when the condition of the road could be seen.

Most of the fields in this district still have water in them.

How to Make Better Cough Remedy Than You Can Buy

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of sugar syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of truly wonderful medicine for coughs due to colds. It is far better than anything you could buy ready-made, and you get four times as much for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it.

This is positively the most effective, quick-acting cough remedy that money could buy. Instantly, you feel it penetrating the air passages. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes and makes breathing easy. You've never seen its equal for prompt and pleasing results.

Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, the most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.
